N. E. I. A. A. MEET.

The annual meet of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association held on Worcester Oval last Saturday resulted in a victory for Bowdoin by a single point. Williams was second and Amherst a close third. The games, as a series, were not so interesting as last year, doubtless on account of the cold and rain, and the heavy track was not conducive to record breaking. Williams and Bowdoin made a hot fight for first place, but the difference between the two were so finely drawn by the course of events that the issue as to which college won the meet turned on the question of dividing the points for second and third places in the pole vault or vaulting off the tie. Hurlbut of Wesleyan won the pole vault at a height of 10 feet 6 inches. Wilder of Dartmouth, Clark of Bowdoin, and Squires of Williams were tied at 10 feet. A division of points would have given the meet to Williams by a score of 22 1-3, with Bowdoin second with a score of 21 1-3 points. Clark insisted on jumping off the tie instead of dividing the points. Wilder withdrew, and the vaulting was resumed again between the Williams and Bowdoin representatives. Clark won at a height of 9 feet 9 inches, thus winning the meet for Bowdoin. Bowdoin's victory proved a popular one, partly from the fact that the team was not considered as a possible winner when forecasts were made before the games, and partly in recognition of the excellent work of the college, which is one of the youngest in the association.

Amherst made a remarkable good showing and finished a close third with nineteen points. Brown, generally acknowledged a weak team, kept piling up points in the field events and finished fourth, a point and two-thirds behind Amherst. Wesleyan and Dartmouth ranked fifth and sixth, respectively. M. I. T., which was regarded as a strong team before the games, wound up with eleven points, and the University of Maine which announced itself as content if it scored, developed one record breaker, and finished last with six points. Trinity succeeded in getting a place with six and a third points, and W. I. T. and Tufts, whose representatives were few, did not score.

Bray of Williams and Curtenius of Amherst were the stars of the day with three and two firsts respectively to their credit. Record breaking aroused practically no enthusiasm, as the events were decided in the middle of the field and no interest was taken in them until the announcement of the results were made. The former record in the discus, held by Winslow of Amherst, was broken by Grover of University of Maine, who made a throw of 108 feet 1-2 inches. The shot was put 38 feet 10 1-2 inches by Melandy of Brown, breaking the former record of 38 feet 6 1-2 inches, held by Godfrey of Bowdoin. In the hammer throw, Ingalls of Trinity hurled the weight 126 feet 1-2 inch, breaking the former mark of 125 feet 6 1-2 inches held by Healey of Tufts. Curtenius of Amherst ran two of the prettiest races of the day, equalling his own record in the 220-yards dash on a heavy track. The Amherst men were strongly supported by the only organized cheering on the field and by one of the largest delegations present. The team with its supporters returned to Amherst via Northampton late Saturday night.

100-YARDS DASH.

In the first trial heat Curtenius easily outran Patterson of Williams, winning the heat in 10 2-5 seconds. Hunt of Bowdoin and Billington of Wesleyan won the second and third trial heats, respectively. The trial heat for second men was won by Patterson. In the final Curtenius won in a pouring rain, making the same time as in the first heat.

120-YARDS HURDLES.

Potter of Williams was practically sure of a place in this event, but was disqualified from the final heat with Pope of M. I. T. because they ran around a hurdle. Wilson of Amherst ran second to Horr of M. I. T. in the first trial heat. Edson of Dartmouth and Hadlock of Bowdoin won the second and third trial heats, respectively. Wilson won the heat for second men in good time, 17 1-5 seconds, defeating Shepard of M. I. T. and Dodge of Wesleyan. Wilson ran a pretty race in the final and finished only a foot behind Horr. He was the only man in the bunch who did not knock over the hurdles.

440-YARDS DASH.

Gladwin easily won his trial heat in 53 seconds, with Snow of Bowdoin second and Park of Williams third. Haskell of Dartmouth finished first in the second heat, Pierce of Brown second and Priest of M. I. T. third. Bates, 1901, did not qualify. The first three in each heat were allowed to run in the final. Gladwin would have won the final easily, had he at hand his regular running shoes. Before the event his locker was broken open and the shoes taken. Although obliged to run in his jumping shoes he finished a close second. Snow of Bowdoin spurred at the finish, winning out by less than a foot margin, 880-YARDS RUN.

This event was won by Bray of Williams. Captain Klaer although pocketed up to within a few yards of the tape broke away from the bunch and spurred toward the finish, taking third place. Wiggins, 1901, was also entered in the event.

MILE RUN.

Bray of Williams was an easy winner in the mile run. Carey of Wesleyan led at the start but Bray passed him on the second lap, finishing in 4 min. 46 2-5 sec. Longstreth, 1901, was entered from Amherst, but had not enough strength left on the last lap to keep up with the leaders.

TWO-MILE RUN.

Bray also won the two-mile run, but he was hard pushed by Moody of Dartmouth, Hawley of Amherst ran a pretty race and took a good third.

220-YARDS HURDLES.

The trial heats were won by Bigelow of Brown, Potter of Williams and Edwards of Bowdoin. The trial heat for second men was won by Edson of Dartmouth. Wilson of Amherst failed to qualify in his heat. Much to the surprise of the Williams supporters Edwards finished ahead of Potter in the final.

220-YARDS DASH.

The trial heats for the 220-yards dash were run off in the morning. Curtenius won his heat with several yards to spare and if he had been pushed would have undoubtedly broken his own record of 22 3-5 seconds. Patterson of Williams and Cloudman of Bowdoin won their heats, and Hunt of Bowdoin won first in the trial heat for second men, defeating Billington of Wesleyan. Curtenius won first in the final, equalling his former record of 22 3-5 seconds. Cloudman finished a head of Patterson.

TWO-MILE BICYCLE RACE.

Dudley, 1900, won the first heat in the bicycle race easily in slow time, 5 min. 40 4-5 seconds. Cleeland, 1902, crossed the line a very close second to Steever of M. I. T. in the fourth trial heat. In the heat for second men Cleeland won without difficulty. Murray of M. I. T., the holder of the record, won the final. Dudley was a good second and Cleeland finished a close fourth.

POLE VAULT.

The pole vault as last year proved the deciding event of the day. Hurlbut of Wesleyan cleared the bar at 10 feet 6 inches. Wilder of Dartmouth, Squires of Williams and Clark of Bowdoin were tied for second place at 10 feet. Williams wanted the points divided but Bowdoin insisted on the tie being jumped off. The referee granted Bowdoin's request and Clark won second with Squires third in the jump off. Phillips, 1902, remained in the contest until the bar reached 10 feet, when he failed.

SHOT PUT.

The trials in the morning narrowed the number of contestants down to three. Melandy of Brown took first place as a record breaker in the event with a throw of 38 feet 10 1-2 inches. Godfrey of Bowdoin who formerly held the record, took second place, and Grover of University of Maine, third. In the trials Winslow of Amherst put the shot 36 feet 10 inches, but did not qualify.

HAMMER THROW.

A dark horse won the hammer throw. Ingalls of Trinity won the event at 121 feet 2 inches, Hall of Brown was second with a throw of 110 feet 4 inches and Carson of Dartmouth third with a throw of 98 feet 1 inch. In a try for the record Ingalls threw the hammer 126 feet 1-2 inch, breaking the record of 125 feet 5 1-2 inches held by Healey of Tufts. Elam, 1901, represented Amherst, but failed to qualify in the preliminaries.

RUNNING HIGH JUMP.

Baxter of M. I. T. was the favorite in this event, winning at the height of 5 feet 7 1-2 inches. Brown of Brown, Cline of Wesleyan and Littell of Trinity tied for second place and the points were divided. Klaer and Lyall, 1900, and Smith, 1902, were entered from Amherst. Smith was the last Amherst man to fail in clearing the bar.

RUNNING BROAD JUMP.

Gladwin, tired out from his quarter mile run, was unable to gain a place in the broad jump. He came within a half-inch of the third man. Field, 1901, was also unable to take a place. Brown of Brown won at 21 feet 4 inches.

DISCUS THROW.

The record for the discus throw held by Winslow at 104 feet was broken by Grover of the University of Maine, who hurled the quoit 108 feet 1-2 inches. Winslow took third place with a throw of 102 feet 11 inches.

N. E. I. PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Press association was held Friday, May 19, at the Cooley House in Springfield. From the thirty-six publications that are members of the association, thirty delegates were present. An interesting session of the convention was held in the afternoon at which subjects bearing upon the questions which confront the college editor were discussed. R. S. Brooks, a former editor-in-chief of THE STUDENT, now connected with the Springfield Republican, gave a pleasing talk on the practical sides of public journalistic work. Miss Rita Smith of Smith College discussed "Ways and means of cultivating short story work for its own sake." Miss Gordon of Wellesley took up "The purpose of the College Monthly." Burgess Johnson of the Amherst Lit. talked on "How we shall stimulate contributions on the part of the student body?" R. N. Wilcox of Trinity read a paper on "The college publication as a critic," and C. W. Stowell of the University of Maine discussed "Whether editors and contributors to college publications should be given credit for this work as a part of their college work." W. W. Hiscox of Amherst opened the discussion on "The method of conducting a college weekly." M. L. Farrell, also of THE STUDENT, spoke on the same subject.

John H. Marriott, '99, the president of the association, presided at the convention. The following officers were elected for next year: President, R. N. Wilcox of Trinity; vice-president, Miss Gordon of Wellesley; secretary and treasurer, W. W. Hiscox of Amherst; member of executive committee, Miss Marmon of The Smith College Monthly.

H. V. Hazeltine of Brown acted as toastmaster at the banquet which began at nine o'clock in the evening. M. L. Farrell, of THE STUDENT, responded to the toast, "Why We Are Here;" R. E. Beebe of the University of Vermont to the toast, "Financially Speaking;" R. A. Benson of Trinity Tablet to "Lost Strayed or Stolen;" J. B. Doyle of Boston College to "The college paper as a factor in intercollegiate relations;" W. A. Dyer of the Amherst Lit. to "The Poet's Attic;" Cranston Brenton of Trinity to "Anything but Journalism;" Miss Janet Sinclair of Mt. Holyoke Monthly to "People I have run up against;" and R. N. Wilcox of the Trinity Tablet to "Our New President." Amherst was also represented by George S. Bryan, chairman of the Lit. board.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The preliminary tennis games have been played off during the past week with the following results: Crapo defeated Hubbard, 6-1, 6-4; Wilkins defeated Titsworth, 6-0, 6-1; Crapo defeated Wilkins, 6-1, 6-0; Messinger defeated Chambers, 1-6, 6-3, 6-0; E. S. Ward defeated Birdseye, 6-1, 6-0; Ward defeated Messinger, 6-4, 6-1; Colles-ter defeated Plimpton, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1; Kendall defeated C.M. Pratt, 1-6, 6-4, 6-2; Kendall defeated Colles-ter, 6-2, 6-3; Atkinson defeated Dewar, 6-2, 7-5; R. T. Miller defeated A. H. Clark, 5-7, 6-4, 6-3; R. T. Miller defeated Atkinson, 6-3, 7-5. Flichtner won from H. A. Miller by default. Flichtner defeated R. T. Miller, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5; Crapo defeated Ward, and Flichtner defeated Kendall. This result of the preliminary games left Crapo and Flichtner in the final match to decide the championship of the College.

PLAN FOR A NEW ASSEMBLY HALL.

The active interest of the class of Eighty-four in the welfare of the College has assumed a definite form which is stated in the following petition signed by Joseph H. Spofford, William C. Atwater, and James Mahoney, a committee from the class and presented to the trustees at their recent meeting:

To the Honorable Board of Trustees of Amherst College: The undersigned representing the class of Eighty-four, Amherst College, respectfully petition your honorable body, and represent:—

First. That said class has now in hand a considerable fund, collected at various times from its members, to be devoted to some object for the benefit and to the use of Amherst College.

Second. After considerable investigation and inquiry as to the needs of the institution, having in mind the selection of that especial need which shall appeal at once to the alumni, students, faculty and friends of the College, we feel convinced that there is now, and has been for a long time past, a need for better and more adequate accommodations for the entertainment of returning alumni and friends of the College, during the college year, and more especially at Commencement time. This need is felt especially by returning classes in their years of reunion, and is becoming more and more pronounced as the size of the classes increases, and the number of each returning class becomes larger. The custom of returning is one which indicates an enthusiasm on the part of her sons, which should be encouraged by the College, and, in spite of the present inadequate accommodations, it appears to be growing.

Third. At the present time the College lacks a hall or auditorium of sufficient size to accommodate the whole of her returning alumni, or to properly seat her student body and their friends at lectures, social functions and other similar occasions, and the need in this respect now amounts to a positive inconvenience. The present College Hall is an old structure, to which no sentiment for preservation attaches. A large sum of money must be expended upon it to bring it to a state of repair. It is insufficient to meet the appropriate needs of the institution, while the Pratt Gymnasium is even now inadequate to meet the requirements of the alumni banquet.

Fourth. In consequence with this need of an auditorium, there is also a demand for a central and convenient suite of rooms for the use of students, faculty, alumni and friends for social and reading-rooms, committee and reception-rooms, as well as for a limited number of sleeping-rooms in the absence of sufficient hotel accommodations in the town itself.

Fifth. Pursuing this line of investigation we learn that at many of the other colleges and universities, similar wants of progressive institutions have been already met by the erection of one beautiful and well-adapted building. And feeling assured, therefore, that at this time such a building is a vital need of Amherst College, that it could be planned so as to meet the requirements at a cost, exclusive of land, of $100,000, we would prefer to devote our fund to the furtherance of such an object. We think also that the time when the College is about to enter upon a new period of administration is opportune for the presentation of the project, entitled in our judgment to the generous support of every alumnus and friend of the institution.

Sixth. Wherefore, the undersigned, having been empowered by the executive committee of said class, petition your honorable body to set aside, at your meeting on May 18 current, a suitable site for such a building, having in view the fact that it should be centrally and conveniently located for both students and alumni.

Your petitioners also suggest that it is extremely desirable that a site should be set aside before the coming Commencement, if your honorable body thinks favorably of the project, as at that time said class has its quinquennial reunion, and action should then be taken formally for the appropriation of said fund and undertaking the raising of the balance. If, for any reason, it be deemed not possible at present to appropriate the site which shall ultimately be most desirable, we would pray that some other desirable site be set aside for the time being.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Memorial services were held last Sunday afternoon in the College Church in memory of the late Charles Edward Dyer. The exercises were conducted by Professor Genung who paid a fitting tribute to the character and personal example of Mr. Dyer. The members of the Chi Psi fraternity of which Mr. Dyer was a member attended in a body, as also did the members of the sophomore class.

A. I. A. A. MEET.

The annual track meet of the American Intercollegiate Athletic association commenced on Manhattan Field yesterday and was continued to-day. That Pennsylvania will take first place seems a foregone conclusion. Harvard and Yale have entered twenty-two and twenty-seven men, respectively. It seems probable that Yale can take at least three firsts with Boardman, Adams and Clapp, and will undoubtedly be able to add many other points to swell her total score. The victory of Harvard over Yale in the New Haven dual games seems to augur well for a similar result in the meet to-day though it is very difficult to forecast the outcome with any degree of certainty.

VOL. XXXII. Saturday, May 27, 1899. No. 29

THE high standard of scholarship maintained by Amherst men at Yale, as was shown by the honors recently awarded at the Commencement of the Divinity School, demands a word of commendation. The fact that four out of five Commencement speakers were Amherst graduates is a tribute to our methods and instructors. THE STUDENT wishes to congratulate the Amherst men at Yale, who by their excellent scholarship reflect credit upon their Alma Mater.

THE recent permanent appointment of Professors Grosvenor and Churchill to the respective chairs of Modern Governments and their Administration, and of English and Public Speaking meets with the hearty approval of the entire College. The popularity of the courses in both departments is evidence of the honor and esteem in which both professors are held, and the trustees certainly have acted wisely in retaining men of such unquestioned ability in permanent charge of these respective departments.

THE movement already started by the class of Eighty-four and approved by the trustees to erect a new assembly hall deserves the hearty coöperation of every alumnus, student and friend of the College. The imperative needs for the erection such a building as stated in the petition, printed in another column, must be apparent to all. There is nothing which would add more to the equipment of the College than an imposing alumni hall, and THE STUDENT believes that it is the duty of every alumnus to aid in every way the carrying out of the plan suggested. The class of Eighty-four deserves the commendation of the alumni and undergraduates for the loyalty and interest it has manifested in the welfare of the College.

ALTHOUGH not winning first place at Worcester last Saturday, Amherst maintained her position as one of the leaders in track athletics among the colleges of the New England association. The record of the team as a whole was creditable, and it showed that, with scarcely an exception, every man had done hard and conscientious work and had put forth his best efforts to secure first place for Amherst. For the work of captain Klaer THE STUDENT has only words of praise. He has labored long and efficiently to bring out a winning team and whatever degree of perfection the men may have attained is in a large measure due to his efforts. The team was loyally supported at Worcester and urged on by cheering which was not equalled by that of any other college represented and it is hoped that this support will continue right through to the end of the season. The triangular meet is only a week distant and to that the attention of the College naturally turns. Amherst has beaten Wesleyan and Williams alone is to be feared. That the contest between Amherst and Williams will be a close one is without doubt a safe prediction; but all have confidence in the ability of our team and believe that in the end it will come off successful and add another to Amherst's list of athletic victories.

WITH the great improvement in the playing of the baseball team the past week the confidence of the entire College in the team's ability to win championship games has been strengthened. Captain Righter and his team deserve credit for the good games played against Dartmouth on Saturday and Trinity last Wednesday. Although the contest on Friday should have been a victory for Amherst, it served to bring out a few weak points, which have been greatly strengthened in the two games that followed. The remaining games of the schedule are mostly of the championship series, and the College expects the team to enter them with such a spirit and determination to win as was never before possessed by an Amherst nine. Amherst still has a good chance to secure the pennants in both leagues, yet she cannot afford to lose a single game. The College is as a unit behind the team, ready to give it the strongest support in good baseball playing such as was exhibited against Dartmouth last week and Trinity Wednesday and which alone can win the championships for 1899. Beginning with this afternoon's game with Wesleyan the team will play none but championship games for a week, meeting Williams on their own diamond Tuesday and Dartmouth at Hanover on Friday and Saturday. If the plans now proposed are carried into effect, a special train will be provided for the accommodation of men intending to visit Williams-town and two hundred men should be on hand to support the team. For a few years past Amherst has lost this Memorial Day game, but by a strong effort the tables can be turned this year. It is such support as was given the football eleven last fall that the baseball team needs now to assure success on the Williams diamond next Tuesday. As many as possible should accompany the team on its trip to Hanover at the end of the week.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

The Hardy debaters will meet June 6 instead of May 29, as formerly announced.
PROFESSOR CHURCHILL.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

Professor Rush Rhees, '83, of Newton Centre will occupy the pulpit in the College Church to-morrow morning.

Next Sunday being Trinity Sunday, there will be two celebrations of the Holy Communion at Grace Church, at 8 A. M. and at 10-45 A. M. Evening service at 7-30.

The regular meeting of Hampshire East association will be held at Walker Hall Tuesday, June 6, the topic being "Grounds for basing appeals for right conduct." This question will be discussed: "Is the tendency toward social salvation too conclusive of the importance of individual salvation?"

The following are the leaders and subjects for the class prayer meetings to-morrow:

- '99. What is true success? Matt. 16: 21-27. R. F. Phelps.
- 1900. Our Nation's Heroes. Ps. 33: 12-22. F. E. Boggs.
- 1901. Choices. Luke 10: 38-42. A. W. Hunt.
- 1902. The Reward of Loyalty. Josh. 1: 5-9. Andrew Magill.

Championship Game, Amherst vs. Wesleyan, Pratt Field, this afternoon at 3-00 o'clock.

IN BRIEF.

Charles B. Adams, '96, has been in town recently.

Frank P. Wood, of Amherst, is managing the Richmond House at North Adams.

Professor Emerson left Tuesday for New York, whence he will start on his trip to Alaska.

Peck, ex-1900, played center field on the Trinity team in the game at Amherst, Wednesday.

It is expected that the schedule of senior examinations will be ready for distribution next week.

The annual Andover-Lawrenceville baseball game will be played on Thursday, June 1, at Andover.

Mr. Fletcher had a letter on "The Librarians at Atlanta," in the Springfield Republican last Saturday.

The Senior Dramatics presented "The Magistrate" in Union Hall, Boston, Thursday evening, May 18.

The annual New England lawn tennis tournament opened at the New Haven club grounds Tuesday.

The first round in the annual spring tennis tournament of Williams college was played off the first part of the week.

The senior class banquet will be held at the Worthy, Springfield. The date has not yet been decided upon.

Members of the faculty have accepted the challenge of the Phi Beta Kappa society for a game of baseball sometime in June.

By a vote of the trustees Professor Richardson's department will hereafter be known as that of German Language and Literature.

A special train was run last night from Northampton after the performance of "The Magistrate" by the seniors in the Academy of Music.

Professor and Mrs. David P. Todd will give a reception to the members of the Wesleyan and Amherst baseball teams, after the game this afternoon.

The Theta Delta Chi and Chi Phi fraternities met in a baseball game on Blake Field, Tuesday afternoon. The score was Chi. Phi, 28; Theta Delta Chi, 7.

Dr. C. M. Lamson, '64, of Hartford, will sign and award the diplomas this year, preside at the Commencement exercises and represent the trustees at the alumni dinner.

Merrill E. Gates, formerly president of Amherst College, has issued a circular stating that he is open to engagements for lectures at school commencements and other occasions.

The faculty committee having in charge the preparation of the Commencement program meets to-day. It is expected that the preliminary program will be ready for publication next week.

The following new men have been taken to the athletic team training table this week; Phelps, '99, MacDuffee, 1900; Field, Hawley 1901; Sheppard, Berry, Blanchard and R. S. Phillips, 1902.

A. J. Sadler, 1900, gave a stereopticon lecture entitled "Around the World in Eighty Minutes" at the Southeast schoolhouse, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Friday Evening club.

Professor Todd has an article in last week's issue of Science critically reviewing a "History of Astronomy" by Arthur Berry of King's College, Cambridge, recently published in Scribner's University series.

A meeting of the chairmen of the different fraternity rushing committees was held in the parlors of the Alpha Delta Phi house Monday evening. A set of regulations governing the rushing was drawn up and will be submitted to the different fraternities for approval next week.

At a meeting of the junior class held Thursday morning Christopher St. Clare was elected to represent the class on the Union Lecture course committee next year. A vote was passed favoring the restoration of the old custom of singing on the College fence, and the president of the class was authorized to appoint a committee to consider the advisability of abolishing the cane rush.

The College, through the generosity of a friend, will have synchronous time next year. A clock placed in the treasurer's office will regulate the college time. There will also be clocks in the two laboratories, the gymnasium and Walker Hall. Electric bells in all the recitation rooms and one in the library also will ring at the beginning of each recitation hour and five minutes after. The bell in the chapel tower will also be rung.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT.

One of the most successful concerts of the season was given by the Glee, Banjo and Mandolin clubs at Worcester last Friday evening, May 19. The clubs were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience who thoroughly appreciated the work of the clubs. The solo of Mr. Young was encored three times and all the selections were heartily received. The press reports of the concert were very favorable, and commended the excellence of the instrumental clubs especially.

STRENGTH TESTS.

The results of the strength tests taken by the College Gymnastic association have just been made public by the committee in charge. For various causes only seven of the colleges in the association made returns this year, Harvard leads with a total of 55,437 points for her first fifty strongest men; Columbia comes next with 50,096.20; Amherst third with 48,090.60; University of Minnesota fourth, with 45,355.80; Dickinson college fifth, with 43,318.40; and Wesleyan sixth, with 36,713 points. The University of New York, the seventh college to make returns, had a small total. Harvard's first fifty average 22 years and 3 months in age, 5 feet 9.8 inches in height, and 160 pounds in weight. In these respects Harvard surpasses all her opponents. Amherst came next in point of age, averaging 21 years, 10 months; and Columbia next in height and weight, averaging 5 feet 9.2 inches, and 154 pounds. Of the first fifty of all the colleges Harvard has 21 men, including the first man G. C. Herbert, who has a total of 1595.40 points. H. F. Cochems of Harvard with a record of 1761.40 points was not allowed to enter the test. Of the first fifty men Amherst has twelve with Ballantine in fifth place; Vanderbilt and Phillips seventh and eighth, respectively. The remaining Amherst men of the fifty are Wiggins, 1901, Burke, 1902, Taylor, 1902, W. A. Anderson, 1902, R. S. Hubbard, 1900, Barnum, 1901, MacDuffee, 1900, Gladwin, 1901, Kendall, '99.

COLLEGE VIEWS.

The constant demand made by prospective students for views of the College buildings and surroundings has resulted in an appropriation by the trustees of a sum sufficient for the publication of a collection of views to be used in connection with the catalogue somewhat after the manner adopted by Cornell university. It is the purpose of the College to issue a pamphlet of 18 or 20 pages containing 12 or 14 full page cuts of the College buildings and grounds besides several half page cuts. These views will probably be ready for use before Commencement and although they are not intended for general distribution, the College has arranged to furnish copies for a small consideration.

BASEBALL.

DARTMOUTH, 4; AMHERST, 2.

Dartmouth defeated Amherst, Friday, on Pratt Field, in the first game of the series between the two teams. The day was raw and chilly and the field damp, but in spite of these disadvantages both teams played good ball. Amherst out-batted her opponents and played equally as well in the field, yet the few errors made were costly. Amherst showed inability to hit at the critical points, and her base running was also deplorably weak, and the loss of the game was no doubt due to this defect in the team's playing. The work of the team as a whole was good and showed improvement over the games previously played. Rushmore pitched finely and received good support. Tinker, Fisher, Thompson and Messinger put up the best game for the home team. Harris led at the bat, making four hits out of five times at bat. Righter made a pretty three-bagger over centre field.

Cook was in the box for Dartmouth and was hit hard. He also found some difficulty in finding the plate. After filling the bases by bases on balls in the eighth, he was replaced by Varney, who pulled Dartmouth out of the hole very creditably. Captain Drew, French and Crolius played a strong game. Crolius led the batting for Dartmouth with a three-bagger to his credit.

Amherst went first to bat. Harris led off with a single and was followed by Tinker with a double. Thompson hit to short and Harris was shut off at the plate. Whitney also hit to short and Tinker was thrown out at home. Fisher went out on Abbott's assist. French was up for Dartmouth and and struck out. Drew singled and stole second. Folsom went out on a fly to Crapo, and Crolius on a fly to Righter.

In the second inning Amherst made her only scores during the game. Righter drew a base on balls, was advanced by Crapo's hit and scored on Hancock's error. Messinger struck out. Rushmore hit to McCarten who fumbled, allowing Crapo to score and Rushmore to reach first. Harris singled. Tinker hit safely, but was caught off first. Thompson was hit by pitched ball, but was put out at second. Dartmouth failed to score in her half, and only one man got as far as second.

In the third inning Amherst did not score. French was up for Dartmouth and went out on a fly to Messinger. Drew hit to Thompson and was thrown out at first. Folsom went to first on called balls and immediately scored on Crolius' three-bagger. McCarten made the third out, retiring the side. No more scoring was done until the sixth when Dartmouth made two more runs. Crolius was retired by Fisher's assist, McCarten received a base on balls and was advanced by Hancock's hit. McCarten stole third. Pingree hit to Thompson who threw high to Righter for a double play and the ball went into centre field. McCarten and Hancock scored. Pingree reached second on option. Abbott reached second on Whitney's drop of third strike. Cook went out on a fly to Messinger. French fouled out to Whitney.

In the seventh Righter made his three-base hit but could not get home. For Dartmouth, Drew struck out. Folsom hit safely and stole second. Crolius flied out to Messinger and Folsom reached third by the play. Righter failed to stop McCarten's hit and Folsom scored. McCarten stole second and was put out in attempting to steal third. The score was as follows:

AMHERST, 4; DARTMOUTH 1.

Amherst won the second game from Dartmouth Saturday in an interesting and exciting contest on Pratt Field. Amherst put up a beautiful exhibition of ball playing, hitting well and fielding their positions in excellent shape. The base running was also an improvement over Friday's game. Kent pitched an elegant game and allowed only four scattered hits. He also fielded his position well, making three assists. The work of the whole team was of a high order. In the field Crapo had five chances and accepted them without an error. The whole infield was a stone wall to any hits made in its territory. Whitney filled his position admirably. Thompson's two-bagger, when three men were on bases, was the longest hit of the game. Fisher had two singles to his credit.

Sampson pitched a fair game for the visitors, but was touched up for six hits. Like Cook, on the previous day, his control was not of the best, and four men walked to first. He had an excellent backstop in Drew, who made ten of the twenty-seven put outs. Abbott, French and Crolius played fast ball, and made three double plays during the game.

Amherst came first to bat. Harris went to first on called balls. Tinker singled. Thompson hit to French, who, with Abbott and Crolius, made a double play, putting out Tinker and Thompson. Whitney went out on a foul to Drew. Dartmouth went out in order, French on a fly to Harris, and Drew and Folsom on flies to Crapo. Both sides went out in order in the second and third. Each side scored in the fourth. Tinker reached first on McCarten's error. Thompson hit to French, who fumbled and Tinker stole third. Whitney struck out. Fisher hit to left field scoring Tinker, but Thompson in attempting to reach home was shut off at the plate. Righter struck out. French singled and reached third on Messinger's error. Drew flied out to Crapo, and French scored on the throw home. Folsom singled. Crolius hit through Fisher, advancing Folsom to third. Crolius stole second, McCarten hit to Thompson, who threw Folsom out at the plate. Hancock struck out.

In the fifth Crapo reached second on Abbott's error. Messinger also hit to Abbott, who added another error to his list and let the ball roll into center field. Crapo started for home but was thrown out at the plate by Hancock. Kent struck out. Harris singled. Tinker hit to French who threw Messinger out at third. Dartmouth went out in order. The next inning Thompson drew a base on balls. Whitney flied out to Hancock. Fisher singled. Righter hit to Abbott, and a double play by Abbott, French and Crolius resulted. Again Dartmouth failed to score.

In the seventh three more runs were added to Amherst's score. Crapo reached first on Abbott's error and was advanced by Messinger's single. Kent went out on Abbott's assist. Harris hit to first and Crapo started for home, but was shut out. Messinger reached third on option and Harris stole second. Tinker drew a base on balls. With two men out and the bases full, Thompson knocked a beautiful two bagger into deep centre field and cleared the bases. Whitney flied out to Abbott. Dartmouth went out in order. In the eighth Amherst succeeded in getting a man on third but he could not score. Fisher reached first on McCarten's error. Righter sacrificed and Fisher reached second. Crapo hit to Abbott, and was out at first with Fisher safe on third. Messinger retired the side by flying out to Folsom. Again Dartmouth went out in one, two, three order. No scoring was done in the ninth by either side, but in this inning another double play was made by French and Crolius. The score was as follows:

AMHERST, 18; TRINITY, 1.

Wednesday afternoon the Amherst baseball team clearly outclassed Trinity in a game on Pratt Field. While the runs in the first inning were quite largely due to poor playing on the part of Trinity, Amherst played her game steadily and not only fielded well as a whole, but did some good batting, especially in the second and ninth innings. In the infield, Captain Righter put up a star game, accepting nine chances without error and making eight put outs. Fisher at short was rather off-color and made two errors. Thompson muffed one easy infield fly, but otherwise played a good game, making one beautiful catch of a hot liner. Kent pitched a good game, allowing but six hits and two bases on balls, and with the exception of one ball, did good fielding. The clever way in which he caught three men off first base, with the assistance of Tinker, was a feature of the game. Foster in left field played an errorless game and batted and ran bases well. Without exception the entire team did good baserunning and showed especial improvement in that respect. At the beginning the second inning Glazebrook sprained his ankle on jumping for a high return ball from the catcher and had to leave the game. Goodridge took his place in the box. Later in the game Davis hurt his ankle but finished the game at first base.

Trinity's single run was made in the second inning on a double by Fiske, a single by Goodridge and Fisher's error. Amherst began her scoring in the first half of the inning and with two men out piled up five runs. In the second inning a beautiful three-bagger down the first base line by Messinger brought in three runs after Harris had already made one on the preceding hits. In the fifth inning Righter scored on Foster's hit and Foster on Kent's hit. In the next inning Thompson and Fisher bunted successfully, but the next two men flied out. The next inning, with one out, Whitney made a fine three-base hit and succeeded in scoring, as did Messinger, who ran for Kent, the latter being hit by a pitched ball. Tinker was the third man out on a pretty catch of a fly by Bellamy.

In the last inning Amherst started in batting in fine style. Messinger was first to bat and singled. Foster followed with a single, then Whitney stepped up and knocked out a terrific hit which carried him all around the diamond. The center fielder made a vain scoop for it but it sped along across the running track out among the hurdles. Harris and Tinker hit, and though the next three men went out in order, five runs were scored and every man had a chance at the bat.

The score was as follows:

AMHERST, 1902, 15; SPRINGFIELD HIGH, 14.

The freshmen defeated the Springfield High school Wednesday, in their first game of the season, at Hampden Park, Springfield, by a score of 15 to 14. Both teams played loosely and made many errors, the High school's being more costly. The Freshmen's hits were fewer and weaker than those of the High school, but proved more timely. Keith, for the freshmen pitched a good game, but was hit somewhat harder than Holbrook, who occupied the box for the High school, striking out seven men, but giving five bases on balls. For the freshmen, Plimpton, Keedy and Thompson put up the best game. For the High school, Holbrook, Murray and Whipple excelled. Whipple and Danforth led the batting, the former getting a triple and the latter a double. The score was as follows.

WESLEYAN GAME.

This afternoon Amherst meets Wesleyan here on our own grounds for our third game in the new triangular league. Our first game with them played at Wesleyan at the very beginning of the season was a defeat for Amherst. With the steady improvement which has taken place in the playing of our team as the season has advanced the College feels confident that in this second round of games Amherst can be victorious. The second game with Dartmouth was a victory; the second game with Wesleyan ought to result as favorably.

WILLIAMS GAME.

For the game with Williams on Memorial Day special arrangements for trains to accommodate the Amherst supporters are being planned by Redfern, '99. There should be no difficulty in finding a hundred men at least who will accompany the team to the Berkshire town and thus secure a special train and special rates. In view of the fact that no one will have to cut college exercises there ought to be two hundred Amherst men who will avail themselves of this opportunity to show their loyalty to their baseball team, and at the same time spend the holiday in a most enjoyable manner. The more men who back the team at Williamstown the surer and brighter become our chances of victory in this game, and ultimately our claim to the pennant.

DARTMOUTH GAMES.

In regard to the games with Dartmouth on next week Friday and Saturday, Manager Mitchell hopes that many Amherst men will make arrangements with him to accompany the team. Of the two games with Dartmouth thus far each college has been victorious in one. By hard work on the part of the team and enthusiastic support on the part of the rest of the College Amherst should win these remaining games and thus make the strongest possible bid for the last baseball pennant to be given in the old triangular league.

Championship Game, Amherst vs. Wesleyan, Pratt Field, this afternoon at 3-00 o'clock.

WESLEYAN LETTER.

Our baseball team returned the first of the week from a rather extended trip, and with a record which was far from satisfactory. The first game, with University of Pennsylvania was lost by a close score. Up to the eighth inning, Wesleyan was in the lead by three points, but here Pennsylvania got in some good batting and scored four runs, making a total of 10 to 9 in her favor. The trip to Rutgers was made in vain, owing to the stormy weather, and the games at Fordham and West Point were both lost by rather heavy scores. The rather severe adage that "nothing succeeds like success" seems to have given place on this trip to a still sterner fact that "nothing defeats like defeat." The principle reason for this discouraging record is to be found in the wretched physical condition of the men due to the extensive traveling. The team lacked the snap so essential to live playing. The batting was poor, and the pitching much at fault. The fielding was nearly up to the standard, but errors at critical moments cost the team dearly. The game with Yale on Wednesday showed that the team had not yet regained its normal condition, Yale winning by the score, 10 to 6. The team lost its championship game with Williams Saturday. Although the recent defeats give us little ground for assurance, we cannot but hope that the team will find new inspiration in the fact that it is playing a league game. We await the result with keen interest. W. M. Anderson, 1901, has been elected to the captaincy of the baseball team in place of J. M. Townsend, '99, who resigned on Friday.

Wednesday, May 31, Wesleyan plays Williams at Williamstown. This will be the fourth and last championship game between these two colleges. Williams has won two out of the three games played thus far.

Only three men have been entered for the Mott Haven meet to be held May 26 and 27. They are Hulburt, 1900, pole vault; Corey, 1900, mile run; and Billington, 1900, 100 and 220-yards dashes.

It is expected that fifteen men or more will go to Northfield from here this year.

Professor Conn's new book, on the question "To What Extent a Living Organism is a Mechanism" is to be issued some time in June.

The class in Ill. Geology made a trip last Saturday for the purpose of studying the terraces and flood plains between South Glastonbury and Gildersleeve and the pegmatitic dikes in that section.

Professor Merrill was recently elected secretary of the American League of Classical Studies in Rome.

AMHERST AT YALE.

Now that the Amherst colony in Yale Divinity school has dispersed for the summer it will be in order to record its history during the last school year. One-quarter of Yale Seminary received its Bachelor's degree from Amherst; to be accurate seventeen men out of sixty-eight pursuing the regular three year's course in Yale hailed from Amherst College. Of these, eight were graduated last week. Four of the five commencement addresses were delivered by Amherst men: Reed, '93, Lyman and Evans, '94, Jump, '96. In the honor award Amherst also holds her own: the Hooker Fellowship, first held by Professor Garman and providing an income of $600 for two years was given to E. W. Lyman, '94. The first Downe's prize of $50 for excellence in Scripture reading was awarded to H. A. Jump, '96, as was also the Saunder's Essay prize of $50 for the best essay on a subject connected with the department of Sociology. The Missionary prize of $50 for best essay on a prescribed topic connected with missions went to J. T. Stocking, '95. Fogg premiums for high scholarship in the work of junior year were awarded to F. Q. Blanchard, '98, and J. T. Stocking, '95.

At the annual dinner four of eight speakers were Amherst men, the Rev. J. S. Ives, '70 Rev. A. W. Hitchcock, '82, Rev. J. C. Wilson, '85, and L. T. Reed, '93. H. A. Jump, '96, is secretary of the out going class. Several seniors have already selected their future field of work. E. R. Evans, '94, is located at Redding, Conn., L. T. Reed, '93, at Cummington, E. B. Robinson, '96, at Lisbon, Conn., and B. L. York, '96, at Roxbury, Conn. Of the Amherst men left in Yale, G. M. Butler, '97, will have a summer parish at Errol, N. H., L. B. Chase, '97, at Rocky Hill, Conn., A. V. Woodworth, '93, at East Saugerville, Me., and J. T. Stocking, '95, at Mt. Washington. Mr. Lyman, the Hooker Fellow, will study during the next year, probably at Berlin.

RESOLUTIONS.

Bereaved by the death of our brother, Paul Darling Scofield of the class of Ninety-eight, we would express our sense of loss and extend our sympathy to his parents and friends.

His character merited and won our esteem and respect. His quiet, though loyal nature, drew our love and we feel and lament his loss as only those with whom he allied himself can. To all his friends we proffer our deepest sympathy.

In token whereof we hereby resolve that these sentiments be sent to his family, spread upon the books of the chapter, and published in THE AMHERST STUDENT; and further we hereby resolve to drape our badges for a period of thirty days as a mark of our sorrow.

ADMISSION.

The four-year curriculum of the Classical Course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for the Freshman class must be at least sixteen years of age, and correspondingly older for advanced standing. Prescribed subjects for examination include Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Ancient History, and English.

The four-year curriculum of the Scientific Course leads to the Degree of Bachelor of Science. Prescribed subjects for examination are as above, omitting Greek and adding Modern Languages, History of England and of the United States, Modern Geography, and Chemistry or Physics.

Preliminary examinations are allowed for admission to either of the above courses.

Graduates of certain preparatory schools are admitted on certificate, without examination. The certificates and pass-boards of the Regents of the University of the State of New York are also accepted in place of examinations.

Porter Admission Prize of $50 for best examination for admission to the Freshman class.

For admission to advanced standing, full equivalents are accepted.

Regular entrance examinations at Amherst, June 22d and 23rd, 1899, and simultaneously at preparatory schools by request.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Graded Diplomas, B. A. and B. S., are awarded at the conclusion of the foregoing courses. Non-competitors for these degrees may pursue special courses.

The academic year is 37 weeks in duration, divided into three terms. The summer vacation of 12 weeks begins with the last week in June. Commencement, June 28, 1899.

Tuition fee, $110 yearly. Privileges of the Pratt Gymnasium free to all students.

The annual award of fellowships and prizes exceeds $3,000.

The beneficiary funds of the College exceed $240,000. Students may receive assistance from the income of these funds.

The collections for instruction in Art and the Natural Sciences are unsurpassed.

Fully equipped laboratories for instruction in Physics, Chemistry and Biology.

The College Library contains about 70,000 volumes, and is freely accessible to all students, without fees.

The Pratt Athletic Field, five minutes' walk from the College campus, is the finest college field in the country. Open to all students.

For further information, catalogues and examination papers, address, The Registrar of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.

AMHERST VICTORIOUS !!

Williams Defeated on Weston Field in a Sensational Game.

AMHERST, 10 ; WILLIAMS, 8.

Amherst defeated Williams, at Williams-town, in the annual Decoration day game, Tuesday, for the first time this season, in an interesting and exciting contest. It was an ideal day for baseball, and consequently the game was largely attended, the attendance being estimated at three thousand. One hundred and fifty Amherst men accompanied the team and made their presence known by their long and lusty cheering. The team put up a splendid exhibition of the national game and played steadily, yet aggressively. They hit well and a glance at the error column will show how well the various positions were fielded. Kent was in the box and did good work. He kept the hits well scattered with the exception of the last inning, and struck out more men and gave fewer bases on balls than did Plunkett. He was ably supported by Whitney behind the bat. Captain Righter played an excellent game at second and was a source of great strength to the team. Fisher, Thompson and Tinker played a good game. The outfield were quick and active and backed up the infield well on ground hits. Harris in the first inning made a pretty diving catch of a short fly off Lydecker's bat. The team hit Plunkett hard, Whitney and Messinger both getting home runs in succession in the eighth. Both also obtained a single.

Plunkett pitched for Williams, but was evidently not in his best form. Ranger started to catch, but in the fourth was injured and was replaced by Edwards, who did well. Risley at first played a star game. He made a beautiful catch of a seemingly impossible foul fly which went in the crowd. Lydecker at third also put up a good game. Risley and Reardon hit well, both getting a two-bagger and the latter a single in addition. Granis, who batted for Seaver in the ninth, also cracked out a double. The game was called at 2-30 o'clock with Amherst at bat.

Messinger was up first and drew a base on balls. He immediately stole second. Tinker cracked out a single, scoring Messinger and got as far as third on Heffernan's error. Thompson flied out to Russell and Tinker started for home. He was declared out for running before the fly was caught. Harris went to first on balls, and Righter flied out to Reardon. Williams was goose-egged in her half. Russell went to first on called balls and stole second. Street struck out, Risley went out on a foul fly to Tinker, and Reardon reached first on Thompson's error and stole second. Lydecker flied out to Harris.

Two Amherst men crossed the plate in the second. Fisher reached first on Street's error and stole second. Crapo went out by Street's assist and Fisher reached third. Kent hit and an attempt was made to cut Fisher off at the plate but was unsuccessful. Kent stole second. Whitney went out on a long fly to Seaver and Kent reached third on the throw in. Messinger singled, scoring Kent, but he was put out at second on Ranger's assist. Williams scored twice in her half. Seaver was given a base on balls and stole second. Ranger singled, scoring Seaver, and reached second on option. Heffernan singled, scoring Ranger; reached second on Crapo's error and stole third. Plunkett struck out. Russell flied out to Thompson and Street to Crapo. No scoring was done in the third, although Amherst had the bases filled twice. Tinker, Thompson and Harris each singled. Harris was caught napping at third and put out. Righter drew a base on balls and again the bases were full. Fisher was retired by a foul fly to Ranger and Crapo was put out at first by Lydecker's assist. Williams went out in order, Risley by Fisher's assist, Reardon on a strike out, and Lydecker on Righter's assist.

The fourth inning saw four more runs added to Amherst's score and another goose-egg to Williams. Kent singled and reached third on Whitney's single. Whitney stole second, Messinger flied out to Heffernan and Kent scored on the throw in. At this time Ranger was injured and gave away to Edwards. Tinker hit through Reardon, scoring Whitney and stole second. He reached third on Reardon's error. Thompson reached first on option and Tinker scored. Thompson stole second and Harris went out on a fly to Edwards. Righter reached first on Street's error and Thompson scored. Fisher flied out to Lydecker. Seaver went out, Fisher to Tinker. Edwards struck out, and Heffernan was put out by Righter's assist. No scoring was done in the fifth and sixth, Amherst going out in order both times, and only eight men coming to bat for Williams during the two innings.

Amherst went out in order in the seventh. Harris flied out to Russell. Righter drew a base on balls, but was caught stealing second. Fisher was thrown out at first by Street. Williams scored twice in her half. Heffernan struck out. Plunkett, Russell and Street each singled and the bases were full. Risley flied out to Crapo. Reardon knocked out a two-bagger, and Plunkett and Russell crossed the plate. Lydecker was retired by Thompson's assist. Score, Amherst, 7 ; Williams, 4.

In the eighth two more runs were added to Amherst's score, both being home runs, and made after two men were out. Crapo was retired on Street's assist. Kent was out on a foul fly to Risley. Whitney knocked out a long fly to left field, which struck a lady spectator on the head and bounded out of reach of Heffernan. Whitney made a complete circuit of the bases. He was followed by Messinger, who also knocked a long hit to left field territory and crossed the home plate before the ball reached home. Tinker reached first on Risley's error. Thompson was out on Edward's catch of his foul fly. Williams was retired in order.

The ninth inning saw another Amherst man cross the plate. Williams, in her half, made a strong finish and by a base on balls and bunched hits made four runs, but could not win out. Harris was up and hit to Russell, who muffed. Harris reached second by the error. Righter singled and Harris was cut off at the plate by Plunkett's assist. Righter reached third by the play, and Fisher drew a base on balls. Crapo reached first on option and Righter scored on Edward's error. Kent struck out, and Whitney was retired by Plunkett's assist. Plunkett was up for Williams and hit to Kent, who threw him out at first. Russell drew a base on balls. Street went out on an infield fly to Kent. Risley knocked out a two-bagger. Reardon followed with a single, scoring Russell and Risley. Lydecker singled and Granis, who was substituted for Seaver, hit out another double, scoring Lydecker and Granis. Heffernan was retired by Thompson's assist and the game was over. The score was as follows:

WESLEYAN, 12; AMHERST, 7.

Amherst was defeated last Saturday in the second championship game with Wesleyan by a score of 12 to 7. It was the first visit of the Connecticut players to Amherst since the formation of the new triangular league and the team and its supporters were highly elated over the victory. Amherst lost through inability to hit Lufkin during the last five innings and poor infield work.

For the first two innings the game was a regular pounding match, Wesleyan making four singles and a three-bagger out among the carriages, while Amherst made as many hits, though all were singles. At the end of the second inning the score stood 6 to 5 in favor of Wesleyan. Both sides went out in one, two, three order in the next inning. In the fourth, Amherst made four hits, and two runs, but the side was retired by Righter striking out, leaving the bases full. The score was then seven to six in favor of the home team. After this inning Amherst failed to make a single hit and consequently ceased scoring. Wesleyan scattered along six more hits and the same number of runs, materially assisted by errors of their opponent's infield.

In the first part of the game, Amherst's batting was good, but during the last few innings her players could not find the ball. Thompson and Fisher at third and short stop played a very eccentric game, handling the hot and hard balls and making a mess of nearly all of the easy ones that came their way, piling up seven costly errors between them. They both helped out in the batting, however. Rushmore and Whitney proved a strong battery for Amherst. Rushmore, besides pitching a beautiful game, made, next to Townsend, the best batting average of either team. The score was as follows:

GAMES OF THE WEEK.

Upon the result of the games played this week Friday and Saturday with Dartmouth at Hanover depends Amherst's chances for the pennant in the old triangular league. If either college wins both games, the winning team is practically sure of the pennant. If Amherst loses a single game the only way she can then prove victorious for the season is to win both of the remaining games with Williams. With the enthusiastic support of the Amherst men who have been able to accompany the team to the New Hampshire college and the splendid playing of which our team is capable Amherst's chances are bright.

Next Monday the University of Vermont plays Amherst on Pratt Field. That the Green Mountain boys can play first-class baseball is quite sufficiently proven by their victory over our rival Dartmouth on Memorial day. It remains for the Amherst team to show that they can play superior ball and that they do not intend to lose another game during the season.

Amherst has an opportunity on Wednesday to retrieve the defeat she suffered at the hands of Yale early in the season. That our team has improved greatly during the advancing season we hope will be demonstrated by a favorable score in the Yale game, of course recognizing that Yale has been steadily strengthening.

Other college games to-day are: Princeton at Yale, University of Vermont at Williams, Tufts at Bowdoin, Michigan at Cornell, Columbia at Pennsylvania, New York Athletic club at Georgetown, Harvard at Bates, Holy Cross at Wesleyan. Games Tuesday: University of Vermont at Trinity, Michigan at Pennsylvania. Games Wednesday: University of Vermont at Wesleyan, Bates at Bowdoin, Harvard at Holy Cross.

STANDING OF THE LEAGUES.

The standing of the old triangular league and the new tricollegiate league up to the time of the two games between Amherst and Dartmouth the last of this week is as follows:

OLD LEAGUE.
	Won	Lost	Per cent
Dartmouth,	3	1	.75
Amherst,	2	2	.50
Williams,	1	3	.25
NEW LEAGUE.
Williams,	4	2	.66
Wesleyan,	3	3	.50
Amherst,	1	3	.25

CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP.

The last of this week the captains of the junior and sophomore baseball teams called out candidates for the final game in the class series, postponed from last fall, and which is now to be played on Pratt Field, Saturday, June 14. The absence of all 'varsity men from the teams necessitates that many new men fill up the gaps thus made. In this way the junior team is left without last year's pitcher, second baseman, short stop and their best fielder, and the Sophomores are deprived of their pitcher and third baseman. It is probable that Moore will pitch for the underclassmen. This necessary shake-up of the teams will greatly weaken them, but it is likely the game will be none the less interesting and exciting.

RESULTS OF COLLEGE GAMES.

Saturday, May 27: Yale 8, Andover 2; Princeton 12, Harvard 2; Dartmouth 8, Brown 7; Holy Cross 11, Georgetown 4; Memorial day: Cornell 2, Harvard 7; Yale, 1902, 10, Andover 2; Columbia 4, Wesleyan 2; Holy Cross 5, Brown 2; Lehigh 5, Pennsylvania 4; University of Vermont 8, Dartmouth 6.

TRI-COLLEGIATE ATHLETIC MEET.

The first annual athletic meet of the new Tri-collegiate Athletic association will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock on Pratt Field. The meet promises to be an interesting one. Ninety-five men have been entered from the three colleges, Amherst, Wesleyan and Williams. The first place will probably be won by Amherst or Williams. Unless Wesleyan produces some unexpected material, she will hardly be in the race at the finish. Bray of Williams will be a strong candidate for first place in the half-mile, mile and two-mile runs, while Potter will doubtless win points for Williams in the high and low hurdles. His prospects for first place in these are good. On the other hand Curtenius will make a strong bid for first place in 100 and 220-yards dashes and is a sure point winner for Amherst. Winslow also will probably be good for eight or ten points in the shot and discus. Amherst has also many other men who will win points in the running and jumping. It looks as though the second and third place men will play a large part in the decision of the meet.

The following are the officials of the day: Referee, H. A. Adams. W. A. C.; judges at finish, H. L. Dadmun, B. A. A.; J. T. Roche, Jr., H. A. A. and F. H. Bigelow, H. A. A.; field judges, Dr. F. N. Seerley, S. T. S., and R. G. Clapp, Y. A. A.; timers, John Graham, B. A. A., I. E. Bigelow and A. F. Bardwell; clerk of course, J. B. Moran, B. S. C.; starter, J. W. Bowler, C. G.; marshalls, H. H. Lehman, Williams, O. E. Yale, Wesleyan and C. I. DeWitt, Amherst; scorers, C. N. Stoddard, Williams, E. M. Eldridge, Wesleyan and H. I. Pratt, Amherst. The entries are as follows:

100-yards dash—Curtenius, Sheppard, MacDuffee, Gladwin and Messinger of Amherst; Billington, Bishop, Gordon, Anderson and Powers of Wesleyan; A. C. Patterson, Rooney, Emerson, S. B. Wood and Parks of Williams.

220-yards dash—Curtenius, Sheppard, MacDuffee, Gladwin, Bates and Messinger of Amherst; Billington, Bishop, Gordon, Anderson and Powers of Wesleyan; A. C. Patterson, Rooney, Emerson, Parks and Wood of Williams.

440-yards dash—Gladwin, Bates, Kendall, Sheppard, MacDuffee and Curtenius of Amherst; Billington, Bishop, Powers and Hirschfield of Wesleyan; Parks, Joeckel, Wood, Goodbody and Bray of Williams.

880-yards run—Klaer, Wiggins, Barry and Kendall of Amherst; Carey, Meeker, Adams, Hirschfield and Rippere of Wesleyan; R. Wood, Goodbody, Steel and Bray of Williams.

Mile run—Longstreth, Hawley and Wiggins of Amherst; Carey, Meeker and Walter of Wesleyan; Steel, Little, Whelan, Bray and Goodbody of Williams.

Two-mile run—Hawley, Longstreth and Wiggins of Amherst; Carey, Meeker, Walter and Adams of Wesleyan; Bray, Little, Lathrop, Whelan and R. Wood of Williams.

120-yards hurdles—Wilson, Blanchard, Walker and Klaer of Amherst; Hurlbut, C. R. Dodds and Coriscanden of Wesleyan; Potter, Putney, Harmon, Campbell and Swift of Williams.

220-yards hurdles—Blanchard, Wilson, Walker, Burdon, Field and Foster of Amherst; Hurlbut, Terry, and Coriscanden of Wesleyan; Campbell, Potter, Swift, Seaver and Harmon of Williams.

Two-mile bicycle race—Dudley, Cleeland, Phelps and Brooks of Amherst; Wells, Holmes and D. Patterson of Williams.

Pole vault—Phillips, Franklin, Hubbard and Matthews of Amherst; Hurlbut and Cline of Wesleyan; Squires, Howe, and Cullinan of Williams.

Running high jump—Smith, Lyall, Wilson, Klaer, Field and Blanchard of Amherst; Cline, C. R. Dodds, Bugbee and S. A. Dodds of Wesleyan; Potter, Dunbar, Squires and Seaver of Williams.

Running broad jump—Gladwin, Field, Blanchard, Phillips and Smith of Amherst; Cline, Hurlbut, Billington and S. A. Dodds of Wesleyan; S. B.

Wood, Potter, Mason, Bray and Lehman of Williams.

Putting shot—Winslow, Haviland, Kendall, Balantine and Wight of Amherst; S. A. Dodds, Ackert, Gould and Davenport of Wesleyan; Brown, S. B. Wood, Johnson, Cullinan and Lawrence of Williams.

Throwing hammer—Haviland, Winslow, Elam, Gladwin and Colman of Amherst; S. A. Dodds, Ackert and Gould of Wesleyan; Cullinan, Towne, Simmons, Potter and Brown of Williams.

Throwing discus—Winslow, Haviland, Kendall, Couch, Cook and Phillips of Amherst; S. A. Dodds, Ackert, Gould, Davenport and Cline of Wesleyan; Wilson, Anderson, Howe, Towne and S. B. Wood of Williams.

The souvenirs of the meet have a purple cover printed with aluminum type so as to represent the purple and white of the college. They will contain half tone cuts of the athletic teams.

A. I. A. A. MEET.

As was predicted before the meet, Pennsylvania won the intercollegiate championship games held on Manhattan field last Saturday, with a total score of 57 points. Harvard was a poor second with 28 points; Yale third, with 22 1-2; Princeton fourth, with 11, and Syracuse fifth, with 10. Kraenzlein, of Pennsylvania was the star of the meet with three firsts and the breaking of one world's record to his credit. In the 100-yards dash, Jarvis of Princeton pressed Tewkesbury of Pennsylvania so hard that he was compelled to run it in 10 seconds flat and then won by a few inches only. Kraenzlein equalled the collegiate record in the 120-yards hurdles. Alex. Grant of Pennsylvania captured the two-mile event without any trouble and coached another Pennsylvania runner to second place. McCracken added his quota to the Pennsylvania score in the hammer and shot events and Baxter did his part in the high jump. Harvard and Yale scored one first each, Burke winning for Harvard in the half-mile, and Clapp, the pole vaulting champion, for Yale, at his specialty, establishing a new intercollegiate record of 11 feet 5 inches. Bray of Williams almost outran the Princeton captain in the last eighth of the mile run, but Cregan succeeded in spurting by the Berkshire runner, finishing first by two yards. On Friday in the preliminaries Kraenzlein jumped 24 feet 4 1-2 inches in the running board and thereby broke the world's record in the event.

Amherst sent no representatives to contest in the intercollegiate games this year, but it is interesting to note her past record in the meet. Until Long of Columbia ran the quarter-mile in 49 2-5 seconds last Saturday, the record of 49 1-2 seconds made by G. B. Shattuck, '92, stood as the best in the intercollegiate code. In 1875, C. H. Barber, '77, captured the one-mile run in 4 minutes 44 1-4 seconds and for two successive years, 1889 and 1890, C. O. Wells won first place in the same event. For Williams H. W. Stevens won the 100-yards dash and the quarter-mile run, both in the same year. Wesleyan likewise has had but one representative in first place, G. O. Jarvis, who in 1893 and 1894 won the mile run.

SENIOR DRAMATICS.

"The Magistrate" was successfully presented at the Academy of Music, Northampton, Friday evening, May 26. The Seniors were greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience. Monday they went to New London, Conn. Burges Johnson, '99, having charge of the arrangements for their visit to that city. In the afternoon a tea was given in honor of the company by Mrs. Arthur Eggleston. The play was presented in the Lyceum theatre. The patronesses were Mrs. A. H. Chappell, Mrs. F. L. Palmer, Mrs. J. G. Stanton, Mrs. A. C. Tyler, Mrs. F. H. Chappell, Mrs. W. B. Coit, Mrs. Arthur Eggleston, Mrs. W. C. Noyes, Mrs. H. C. Bunner, Mrs. C. A. Sackett, Mrs. B. L. Armstrong, Mrs. Billings Learned, Mrs. E. T. Kirkland, Mrs. S. A. Gardner, Mrs. Ferrin, Mrs. W. A. Towne. After the performance the men were entertained at dinner at the summer home of Col. and Mrs. A. C. Tyler of Washington, D. C. The next engagement of the company is for Friday evening, June 9, at the Court Square theater, Springfield. The Springfield club of the College has charge of the arrangements.

The following is taken from the New London Telegraph:

The Amherst College Seniors' presentation of Pinero's laughable farce, "The Magistrate," last night, in the Lyceum brought out a good audience and the boys showed their appreciation of the presence of so many well wishers by giving a most spirited and admirably well done entertainment. The idea is that men can't very well portray feminine characters, but it will have to be discarded where the Seniors put in an appearance, for they were notably successful in depicting the ladies in the play.

MRS. TODD'S TEA.

Mrs. David P. Todd held a tea for the members of the Wesleyan and Amherst baseball teams after the championship game last Saturday afternoon from 5-00 to 7-00 o'clock. The guests included about twenty Smith girls and Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. May of Northampton.

VOL. XXXII. Saturday, June 3, 1899. No. 30

TO-DAY the freshman team goes to Williamstown to play the annual game with the Williams freshmen. Since the game last year was not played because of the failure of the Williams team to appear, the game this year will be watched with more than usual interest. This is the one important game the team plays during the season, and for that reason every effort should be made to win. The team should remember that it is struggling to uphold the honor of the College, as well as that of its own class and should put up the best game of which it is capable.

THE action which the sophomore class has taken in appointing a committee of eleven men to influence promising men among the preparatory schools to come to Amherst is a wise measure. The lack of any systematic or organized methods of work along this line has resulted in the loss of many good men who might easily have been secured for Amherst. Though the committee may not be able to accomplish much this year owing to the lateness of the season when most of the men have chosen their college, yet the principle upon which it is based is a correct one, and the work if continued in the future by the other classes also must be productive of gratifying results.

THE status of Amherst in the two triangular baseball leagues is fast becoming critical. Without knowing the results of this week's games with Dartmouth we have to reckon from various suppositions. Unless our team wins three games out of the two with Dartmouth and the two with Williams, Amherst forfeits her claim to the pennant in the old league. In the new league, as in the old, Amherst has four more games to play. Now that she has lost three games with these rivals, two to Wesleyan and one to Williams, the only combination by which she can be sure of this new pennant necessitates that the team win the four remaining games. That Amherst's baseball team can meet one of these conditions is by no means impossible. Our players have shown themselves superior both to Dartmouth and Williams, and, barring accident they can do it now again when the occasion demands. The defeat over Dartmouth here at Amherst and the triumph of Amherst over Williams Memorial day ought not be left as sole trophies of Amherst's baseball season. Such glorious victories, wrought by the splendid playing of Amherst's representatives on the diamond, deserve to be rewarded with a championship banner.

THIS afternoon Amherst meets her rivals in track athletics in the first meet under the new league agreement. It is needless to say that it will be a success and especially interesting this year with Wesleyan as a new comer into tricollegiate rivalry with Amherst and Williams. Without a reasonable doubt the fight for first place will be between the old rivals Amherst and Williams, and it is difficult to forecast the winner in such a close contest as is anticipated. Nothing but rough estimates can be made before the meet, but the prospects of a victory for the home team seem to be slightly favorable by a small margin. A meet such as the tricollegiate is always attended with a certain degree of uncertainty, especially where two of the contestants are so nearly equal as Amherst and Williams. It is the total of second and third places that is to count this afternoon, as it is a comparatively easy matter to pick out the winners of first place in most of the events. There has always been a tendency in College to confine cheering to football and baseball games, thereby seriously slighting the track team. A runner needs the impulse of a cheer now and then to urge him on as well as a man at the bat, and it is hoped that a decided improvement will be made in the support of the track team to-day. There should be a large attendance at the games and Amherst enthusiasm should be a leading feature in the first contest under the new league.

IN BRIEF.

The Aggie Life for this month is out.

There will be no senior class tax this term.

The senior examinations begin Thursday, June 15.

The track team picture was taken Friday, May 23.

Mt. Holyoke college is to erect a new gymnasium this summer.

The tennis tournament between Amherst and Williams has been postponed.

A member of Amherst men attended the Delta Sigma dance in Northampton Monday evening.

The football and baseball caps this year have a monogram instead of the regular A on them.

The Springfield Homestead contained an editorial on the Amherst presidency in its last issue.

Hereafter students of the Amherst High school will be admitted to Amherst College on certificate.

The annual Phi Beta Kappa vs. Faculty baseball game will be played on Pratt Field in the near future.

The date of the Senior Dramatics presentation in Springfield has been changed from June 21 to June 9.

There is to be a meeting of the Western Massachusetts Library Association in the Town Hall, June 13.

At a special meeting held Saturday afternoon it was voted to continue the present system of lighting in town.

The annual Gargoyle elections were held on the Campus at Williams college immediately after the game, Tuesday, May 30.

The Phi Beta Kappa initiation meeting was held in the laboratory, Friday evening, June 2. Professor Todd gave the address.

There was a special train to Williamstown and return Tuesday for the accommodation of the Amherst men who attended the game.

P. A. Job, 1900, has been appointed monitor of the junior class to succeed R. B. Hussey, who has left College on account of illness.

Librarian Fletcher gave a patriotic address before the members of the Hadley public schools last Friday at the Memorial day exercises.

There was a special train from Northampton Thursday evening after the performance of "The Wizard of the Nile" in the Academy of Music.

Rev. Dr. W. H. P. Faunce of New York has been chosen as president of Brown University. Dr. Faunce is an alumnus of Brown, graduating in the class of Eighty.

The library has received from Mrs. Sarah P. Howe a genealogical table of the Storrs family, privately printed in 1886. The book is of especial interest to Amherst men as it contains a long sketch of Dr. Richard S. Storrs, '39, of Brooklyn, long a trustee of Amherst College.

Professor Arthur T. Hadley was elected, at the regular May meeting of the corporation held in New Haven, Thursday, to succeed Timothy Dwight, who has resigned, as president of Yale College.

On June 14, the open date in baseball schedule, the final game in the inter-class series for the John M. Tyler banner, postponed from last fall, will be played between the Sophomores and the Juniors.

Among the alumni who have been in Amherst recently are Oliver Merrill, '91, C. B. Adams and F. P. Trask, '96, Harold Walker, F. Q. Blanchard. Carl Stackman, E. H. Smith and B. E. Marsh, '98.

F. W. Murphy, captain of last year's football team of Brown, has been engaged to act as coach for the Amherst team this fall. Mr. Murphy has been in town this week coaching the candidates for backs.

Arrangements have been completed for the Senior Promenade, June 28. The Philharmonic Orchestra of Springfield has been engaged to furnish music. The programs have been ordered of Dreka, Philadelphia, Professor Grosvenor has arranged for the following dates for graduation addresses: June 7, Millers Falls High school; June 17, Hopkins Academy, Hadley; June 22, Milford High school; June 28, Abington High school.

The annual organ recital for the benefit of the public library will be held in the North Congregational church, Thursday evening, June 8. W. C. Hammond of Holyoke will conduct the recital and Tom Browne, the famous Holyoke whistler, will appear.

May 23, at Blake Field, the Chi Phi baseball team defeated the Theta Delta Chi team, 24 to 7. May 25, the Phi Delta Theta team defeated Theta Delta Chi, 15 to 13. The Delta Upsilon team also defeated Theta Delta Chi, 14 to 9, last week.

In an athletic meet between Michigan and Wisconsin at Milwaukee, May 20, the 120-yards hurdles were run in $15\frac{2}{5}$ seconds, the 100-yards dash in 10 seconds flat, the 440-yards dash in 50 seconds flat, the half-mile in 2 min., 1 sec. the 220-yards hurdles in 25 seconds flat and the 220-yards dash in $21\frac{3}{5}$ seconds.

EIGHTY-FOUR'S FIFTEENTH.

The committee of the class of Eighty-four has, with characteristic energy, provided an attractive program for the approaching fifteenth reunion. Houghton Hall has been engaged for headquarters and many rooms have been secured in adjacent houses, assuring good focusing of class enthusiasm and good fellowship.

Forty-four men gathered to celebrate the memorable decennial and the prospect for fifteenth is equally bright. The Eighty-four quartet will again be on hand at the class banquet in Pacific Hall. Arthur H. Dakin will be toastmaster, James Mahoney, poet, and Herbert D. Ward, historian. The official program of the reunion, beginning with the Wesleyan-Amherst game Saturday and ending with the class reception Wednesday evening, includes among other good things a talk by Professor Garman, a reception tendered to the class by Professor and Mrs. Tyler, a "smoker" Saturday evening, a class prayer meeting Sunday evening in the Chapel, and a class sing afterwards at Houghton Hall.

The committee in charge of the class fund will make its report, and a substantial gift to Amherst College will bear witness to a fundamental article in the creed of every Eighty-four man, namely, that as country is greater than party, so the College is dearer than class and deserves not only loyal service but ready sacrifice from every one who has had the inestimable privilege of training in her halls.

HYDE SIX.

BOOK OF AMHERST FARCES.

The "Late Mr. Rollins," and other farces by Emery B. Pottle, '99, will appear the second week in June. It is a book of typical Amherst stories put into the farce form made so popular by Howells and others. The book is printed on 120-pound plate paper with uncut edges, and is prettily bound in art linen. The cover design and illustrations are by F. Berkely Smith of New York who has illustrated for John Kendrick Bangs, Mark Twain, F. Hopkinson Smith and others. The press work is by the Weed-Parsons company of Albany, N. Y. Almost every college now has its book of stories and many volumes of college verse have appeared, but Amherst is the first to have a book of college farce. No time or expense have been spared to make the volume a model of the book makers art, and the local coloring will add a piquancy to the interest of the stories. The book is published by Lewis C. Merrell, '99.

LATIN NEWSPAPER.

In the interest of the Latin department Professor Crowell has recently subscribed for a Latin newspaper published in Rome, several copies of which he has just received. It is entitled "Vox Urbis, De Litteris et Bonis Artibus Commentarius" and is issued on the Kalends and Ides of each month. Each number contains twelve pages. The April numbers are the latest which have been received and they have been placed on file in the Library reading room. On the cover is the following announcement: "Pretium annuae subnotationis, ante solvendum, in Italia est Libellarum 10. Subnatio fieri postest: In Statibus Foederatis Americae Septent., New York, 143 W. 95th St." Some of the headings of the articles are as follows: "Angli in Colonia deducendis Principes," "Sophocle et Shaksperius Tragicæ Artis Antistites," "De Fragmentis Formæ Antiquæ Urbis nuper in Lucem Prolatis," "Frustula," "Annales," "Aenigmata," "Per Orbem," "Varia," "Loca."

SOPHOMORE DANCE.

About twenty members of the sophomore class gave a lawn party and dance at the Delta Kappa Epsilon house Wednesday afternoon from 4-30 to 8-30 o'clock. The patronesses were Mrs. Hubert Clark, Mrs. Fay, Mrs. Grosvenor of Amherst, and Mrs. Robinson of Northampton. Refreshments were served on the lawn by Call of Northampton.

WILLIAMS LETTER.

The ball team has shown a tendency to get down to steadier work since its Dartmouth trip. The defeat of Harvard, May 16, was largely due to Plunkett's careful pitching. Although Holy Cross has won both games with the home team, the defeats have not been by large scores. Bent, who pitched in the Holy Cross game at Worcester, injured his hand and has done no work since then. By far the most interesting game played on Weston Field this season was that with Wesleyan a week ago Saturday. Plunkett struck out ten men and his pitching, together with timely hitting by the team, won the game. Makepeace, taking first base in place of Risely who was injured in practice, played a good all round game and was responsible indirectly at least, for two of the four runs to Williams' credit. May 27 the team lost its game with St. Johns, 4 to 3. The poor pitching of Jansen, who has not been in form for the past two or three weeks and the inability of the home team to hit, were responsible about equally for the loss of the game. The second nine has been doing good work, having won every game which it has played thus far.

Since the Worcester meet the track team has continued training for the triangular meet at Amherst, June 3. Bray entered in the mile run at the A. I. A. A. games and got second place, being beaten by Cregan of Princeton.

The extemporaneous speaking contest for the Van Vechten prize was held May 24. The winners will not be announced until commencement.

The series of class ball games is nearing the close with a probability that the championship will go either to the Seniors or the Sophmores. If the Seniors win they will hold the cup, having won it three years in succession.

There were thirty-six entries in the tennis tournament for singles. Goodbody won from Seaver in the finals and will represent the college in the match games.

The speakers for the Adelpic Union prize debate at commencement have been chosen as follows: Lehman, E. H. Whitehead, and Rawcliff, '99, Cross, Dyer and Makepeace, 1900.

The chief social events of the term was the Sophomore Promenade, May 29, and the festivities of Prom. week. Besides the promenade, two championship ball games and tennis tournaments on singles and doubles. Cap and Bells gave "She Stoops to Conquer" in the opera house, Tuesday evening, followed by the Glee Club concert in the Congregational church.

Final examinations will be held June 7 to 14, closing Wednesday of the week before commencement.

Professor Morton, head of the French department, left for Paris this week where he will spend the summer.

The schedule of elective courses for next year has appeared. Among others there is to be a new course in English Literature open to Seniors and a new course in French, taking up the novel of the nineteenth century. The junior course in Argumentative English is to be enlarged and will be restricted to those who have had a grade of seventy or over in sophomore English work.

CHALLENGE FROM ENGLAND.

Harvard and Yale have received a challenge from Cambridge and Oxford for a track athletic meet to be held in London about the middle of July. By the provisions of the challenge the competitors are to be formed into two teams, one representing Oxford and Cambridge, and the other, Harvard and Yale. Only nine events are to be contested. The matter is being considered by the college authorities and it seems probable that the challenge will be accepted. The result of such a meet as proposed is a mere matter of conjecture as yet and would be exceedingly uncertain. Oxford defeated Cambridge, March 24, in the dual meet in which but ten events were held and in the majority of these the records were below those made in the Harvard-Yale games. The English colleges exclude the pole vault, low hurdles and the 220-yards dash from their list of events, but add a three-mile run. The trip would probably cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and an effort will be made to have the English agree to a return meet in this country in 1900. Once started, it is believed the meet could be made an annual event and surpass in interest and excellence of performance any collegiate contest now held.

SOPHOMORE COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the sophomore class held last Saturday a committee was appointed whose duty shall be to do what they can toward securing desirable men from the preparatory schools for the next freshman class. The following men compose the committee: Rushmore, McCluney, H. A. Miller, Royse, Mathews, Hatch, Southgate, Rockwell, Elderkin, Bidwell and Gladwin.

COMMUNICATION.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF STUDENT:

Feeling that criticism often arises from a misunderstanding and desiring to avoid this cause of criticism, the football captain and manager desire to explain to the College why the system of play for next season is to differ from that of last fall. At a meeting of three of our alumni most interested in the football welfare of Amherst, it was agreed that the College with the material it has to work with cannot make a success with the University of Pennsylvania system. From later correspondence it was found that Dr. Upton was strongly in favor of the system of last fall, Dr. Delabarre was undecided, while Messrs Lewis, Stearns, Pratt, '96, and Dr. Crocker were in favor of a change. With this idea in mind the management after a search of candidates selected Mr. Murphy who has had experience as a player and together with his captaincy acted as head coach of Brown last fall. With a recommendation by Dr. Crocker, captain of the Ninety team and the approval of all those above mentioned, the management feels confident that no mistake is made in this choice. We are,

Yours truly,

Captain, W. D. BALLANTINE.
Manager, H. I. PRATT.

FACULTY-PHI BETA KAPPA GAME.

Arrangements have been made to play the annual baseball game between Phi Beta Kappa and members of the faculty on Pratt Field, Wednesday afternoon, June 7. The chief result of the practice of the faculty thus far has been sore muscles, but the captain expects to bring his team into championship form in time to inflict the desired defeat upon the college "sharks."

TENNIS FINALS.

The finals in the tennis tournament which were played off last week too late for publication in our last issue resulted in a victory for Crapo over Flichtner. The score was, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 1-6, 10-8. C. M. Crapo is now College champion in tennis. He will represent Amherst in the singles in the Amherst-Williams tournament which was to have been played on Decoration day but was postponed. Crapo and Flichtner will represent the College in the doubles.

BOOK REVIEWS.

"The Life of the World," by Frederick Houk Law, '95, instructor of English at Pawtucket, (R.I.) High school. F. Tennyson Neely, publisher, 114 Fifth avenue, New York.

This book of poems is remarkably good, showing great care and ability on the part of the author. Mr. Law has the richness of nature from which to draw the subject of the majority of his selections, and he shows a keen sense of the beautiful in the way he paints his pictures. The volume has various divisions of subjects treated under the heads of "Life of the World," "Thought," "Norse Poems," "Egypt," "Melancholy," etc. The "Maker Divine" seems to underlie the general character of his sketches wherein lies the depth and beauty of nature. The quality throughout is even. Amherst and Deerfield are alluded to in bright sketch, and ancient mythology is touched upon to some degree. The selections are very interestingly and artistically versed.

"Essentials of Plane and Solid Geometry," Webster Wells, S. B., professor of Mathematics in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. D. C. Heath & Co., publishers, Boston. Price, $1.25

The book is especially suited to the needs of high schools and academies, representing the most practical application of modern methods of geometry teaching. It is well arranged as to arouse the pupil's interest and enthusiasm in the study of the subject and is devoid of ambiguous or loosely constructed statements. The definitions and discussions are clear and accurate. An especially encouraging feature of the book to the pupil is the arrangement of outlined figures in connection with original exercise work.

"Stille Wasser:" Erzählungen von Anna von Krane, Hans Hoffmann und Ernst von Wildenbruch. Selected and edited, with notes and vocabulary by Dr. Wilhelm Bernhardt. Cloth, $35. Boston. D. C. Heath & Co., publishers.

This little volume of German tales forms one of Heath's Modern Language series, and contains a selection from each of the above illustrious storytellers of the Fatherland. As the name indicates, the editor had in mind the old saying that "Still waters run deep" and chose the stories accordingly. Of the three, "Solitaria," by Anna von Krane, is the most thrilling; it strikes a deeper chord in human experience than either "Indolent Joe" or "The Oracle." The style is lucid, interesting, and often brilliant. Striking delineations of character, originality of plot, and pathetic dénouement, mark each story. The intrinsic charm of each tale in the collection, will recommend "Stille Wasser" to all lovers of German literature this side the Atlantic.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions in memory of the Rev. George H. Gould, D. D., of the class of Fifty, Amherst College, adopted by the Amherst Alumni association of Central Massachusetts, May 26, 1899:

Whereas, our Heavenly Father in his divine wisdom has removed from us, by the death of Rev. George H. Gould of the class of Fifty, one of the most honored, beloved and loyal of the sons of Amherst, we, in behalf of the Amherst Alumni association of Central Massachusetts, desiring to express our appreciation of his character and work, and our sense of loss in his death, do hereby adopt the following resolution:

First: That in the death of Dr. Gould, Amherst College has lost an alumnus who in breadth of scholarship, nobility of character and loyal interest in the College has stood among the first of her graduates. His diploma was won at Amherst only after a long and bitter struggle with poverty. In the face of difficulties which would have deterred an ordinary man, he fought his way step by step, until, after four years of struggle, he was graduated with honor in the class of Fifty. He has represented the great work which Amherst has done for the education of poor boys, out of whom she has made some of the most cultured and useful men of our generation. He has stood for Amherst ideas and Amherst character. His entire career has been that of one who, in the halls of his Alma Mater, has learned how to make the most of himself for man and God. The broad, inspiring panorama of beauty spreading away from the old College in her "many windowed hills" has awakened many Amherst men to great visions of letters, life and duty; but never any among them more than Dr. Gould. He was a man of great visions, of splendid faith, of unswerving loyalty, of profound conviction, of wide culture. He represented the best of Amherst's best. Standing for the old, he was always interested in and sympathetic with the newer Amherst. The reputation of the College was very dear to him. Her high ideals, which had so aroused and inspired him, he was eager to see preserved and followed in the development of her later life. He was one of the men who has brought imperishable honor to Amherst. His death is both a serious loss to her and to our association from which the older men are fast falling by the way. To his high character and to our regard and love for him as a son of Amherst, we desire to bear this imperfect but grateful testimony.

Second: Be it resolved: that a copy of this resolution be inscribed upon the records of our association, and also sent to Mrs. Gould, and to Dr. Hitchcock for preservation among the memorabilia of the alumni, and published in THE AMHERST STUDENT and the local press.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'39.—Lyman Whiting, D. D., of East Charlemont, has just passed his eighty-second birthday. He is the oldest alumnus of Andover Theological seminary.

SIXTY-SEVEN.

The following is taken from the Levant Herald of May 8, the chief Anglo-French periodical of Constantinople: "The melancholy news of this event reaches us in a letter from Sivas, dated April 19, which says: It is with great sorrow that I have to announce the death of our dear and much esteemed friend, and your former correspondent, the Rev. A. W. Hubbard, American missionary in this city. After more than two months' illness and great suffering, he was called by the Master whom he had served so faithfully, in the afternoon of last Tuesday in his fifty-seventh year. The news of his death was received with genuine sorrow by the whole city. There was a great demonstration of sympathy from all classes of people. The funeral took place on the morning of last Saturday, and was very impressive in its solemnity. The chapel was not large enough to hold one-tenth of the people who accompanied the funeral procession. Appropriate addresses were made by the Rev. H. T. Perry, by the Archbishop's deputy, and by teachers of the American schools in several languages. The remains were accompanied to the grave by Mrs. Hubbard and her three children, surrounded by sympathizing friends, amongst whom were Dr. and Mrs. Jewett, the American Consul and his wife, the French Consul, all the ladies and gentlemen of the foreign colonies, the boys and girls of the schools and orphanages, and thousands of others. The Armenian Archbishop of Sivas was represented by six of his clergy. All the Consulates had their flags at half-mast, and the local authorities sent a considerable number of police and gendarmes as an honorary escort. Mr. Hubbard lived in this city as a missionary for over twenty-five years, loved and esteemed by all. The resigned submission of Mrs. Hubbard in her overwhelming affliction inspires general respect and admiration, and deep is the sympathy for the bereaved widow and her eight children, of whom five are in America."

Dr. Michael Burnham of St. Louis, Mo., performed the consecrating service at the graduation exercises in Chicago Theological seminary recently.

EIGHTY-SEVEN.

The Rev. Willard B. Thorp recently preached his first sermon as pastor of the South Congregational Church, Drexel boulevard and Fortieth street, Chicago, selecting "The Gospel of the Incarnation" as the subject. Before the sermon Mr. Thorp made an informal address, in which he said it would be his endeavor to become the personal friend of every member of his congregation. He looked forward with pleasure to his charge in Chicago.

Much of the success of the recent peace jubilee in Washington, D. C., was due to the untiring efforts of the secretary of the general committee, Barry Bulkley. Mr. Bulkley is a native of Washington, both his mother and grandmother having been born there. His father is Dr. J. W. Bulkley, of Washington, a lineal descendant of Rev. Peter Bulkley, the founder of the town of Concord Mass. Barry Bulkley is now thirty-four years of age. He received his common school education in Washington, and subsequently attended the Emerson Institute, the oldest private school in the District, graduating there in 1883 as valedictorian of his class. He then entered Amherst, receiving the highest oratorical honors in the class of Eighty-seven. At College he joined the Chi Phi fraternity. Accepting a position as teacher in the Emerson Institute, he achieved quite a reputation as a Greek scholar, and also wrote numerous magazine articles on special topics in American colonial history. He remained a teacher for seven years, and has since devoted his time to study. Mr. Bulkley is a prominent member of the Sons of the Revolution, and for the last seven years he has represented this society at the Fourth of July celebrations by reading the Declaration of Independence at the Washington Monument, a piece of oratory pronounced by President Harrison as the best reading of the document by any living man. As a member of the Sons of the Revolution, Mr. Bulkley has been the special representative for the Lafayette memorial commission.

'88.—The Scientific American Supplement of May 6 contains an interesting account of "Peculiar Laws and Customs in the American Colonies," by Dr. H. V. Ames. The article is one of a series given in a lecture course at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Ames expects to spend the summer vacation abroad, sailing June 3.

NINETY-SEVEN.

Alexander Hamilton Backus of the Cambridge Divinity school sails for Europe June 14 on the Dominion line steamer Canada, in company with some of his Theological friends for the purpose of study and travel through the cathedral towns of England, the Scottish lakes, and Ireland.

George M. Butler of the Yale Divinity school has been appointed pastor of the First Congregational Church of Errol, N. H., for the summer months.

ADMISSION.

The four-year curriculum of the Classical Course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for the Freshman class must be at least sixteen years of age, and correspondingly older for advanced standing. Prescribed subjects for examination include Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Ancient History, and English.

The four-year curriculum of the Scientific Course leads to the Degree of Bachelor of Science. Prescribed subjects for examination are as above, omitting Greek and adding Modern Languages, History of England and of the United States, Modern Geography, and Chemistry or Physics.

Preliminary examinations are allowed for admission to either of the above courses.

Graduates of certain preparatory schools are admitted on certificate, without examination. The certificates and pass-cards of the Regents of the University of the State of New York are also accepted in place of examinations.

Porter Admission Prize of $50 for best examination for admission to the Freshman class.

For admission to advanced standing, full equivalents are accepted.

Regular entrance examinations at Amherst, June 22d and 23rd, 1899, and simultaneously at preparatory schools by request.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Graded Diplomas, B. A. and B. S., are awarded at the conclusion of the foregoing courses. Non-competitors for these degrees may pursue special courses.

The academic year is 37 weeks in duration, divided into three terms. The summer vacation of 12 weeks begins with the last week in June. Commencement, June 28, 1899.

Tuition fee, $110 yearly. Privileges of the Pratt Gymnasium free to all students.

The annual award of fellowships and prizes exceeds $3,000.

The beneficiary funds of the College exceed $240,000. Students may receive assistance from the income of these funds.

The collections for instruction in Art and the Natural Sciences are unsurpassed.

Fully equipped laboratories for instruction in Physics, Chemistry and Biology.

The College Library contains about 70,000 volumes, and is freely accessible to all students, without fees.

The Pratt Athletic Field, five minutes' walk from the College campus, is the finest college field in the country. Open to all students.

THE AMHERST STUDENT.

AMHERST'S NEW PRESIDENT.

The question most vital to the future interests of the College, namely, the selection of a president to fill the present vacancy, seems to be near a solution. The rumor that Prof. George Harris, '66, president of the faculty of the Andover Theological Seminary, has been asked to accept the presidency of the College is generally confirmed, and that he will be Amherst's next president is not doubted by those best able to judge. The committee who have the matter of the presidency entrusted to them have, as yet, made no report to the board of trustees. However, the preliminary work of the committee has been done and that they have settled upon Dr. Harris as the best man for the position is assured. There remains then but the confirmation by the full board at the June meeting and the formal announcement at Commencement. If the trustees elect Dr. Harris they will be following the tradition of the College that the president shall be a clergyman and an Amherst graduate, besides being infused with the inherent spirit imparted by actual contact with the institution in undergraduate days and strengthened by experience in later years.

Dr. Harris was born in East Machias, Me., April 1, 1844. He prepared for college at Washington Academy in his native town. After graduation from Amherst in 1866 in the class with Professor Neill and Treasurer Fairbanks he spent one year in Bangor Theological Seminary, and completed his three-years' theological course at Andover in 1869. He was ordained Feb. 6, 1869. In the same year, he accepted the pastorate of the High Street Congregational Church in Auburn, Me., where he remained until called to the Central Congregational Church, Providence, R. I., in 1872. In 1883 he left Providence and became Abbott professor of Christian Theology at Andover, which chair he now holds. Since 1896, he has been president of the faculty. From 1884 to 1893, he edited the Andover Review. Dr. Harris is the joint author of "Progressive Orthodoxy and Divinity of Jesus Christ." Besides this he has published several sermons, pamphlets and hymns. Dr. Harris is a man of rare personality, a magnetic and forcible speaker, possessing good executive ability together with a spirit of cordial sincerity. As a preacher, he has gained great popularity, especially at Harvard where for several years, he has been one of the resident preachers of the university. In addition to the chair of theology which he holds, Dr. Harris is also professor of Sociology at Andover and has kept well informed upon the important political and economic questions of the day. If one may judge from President Tucker of Dartmouth of the sort of college presidents that come from Andover, Dr. Harris, a man admitted to be of fully equal ability, will, if elected, prove to be an equally rare and valuable president for Amherst.

BOSTON ALUMNI DINNER.

The last of the informal lunches of the Boston alumni was held last Monday noon at the Exchange club. The occasion was unusually interesting on account of the presence of Dr. Hitchcock as the guest of honor. Over forty alumni were present. Professor William B. Graves, '62, of Phillips Andover academy presided. The address of welcome to Dr. Hitchcock was given by Rev. H. A. Bridgman, '83. After receiving an enthusiastic Amherst cheer, Dr. Hitchcock spoke of the condition of the College. He announced that the College was wholly out of debt and gave credit for the present sound condition of the finances to G. Henry Whitcomb, Treasurer Fairbanks, John E. Sanford and other members of the finance committee of the trustees. He urged that while the College is out of debt yet there is constant need for more money. The salaries of the professors ought to be increased and a larger scholarship fund for needy students should be available. The need of reform in the matter of trustee elections by alumni was spoken of. Dr. Hitchcock said that he hoped the matter would receive the consideration of the alumni at commencement. The announcement, by Professor Graves, of the rumor that Prof. Geo. C. Harris, '66, of Andover was being considered in connection with the presidency was received with great enthusiasm by the alumni.

COMMENCEMENT TICKETS.

The scheme of admission by tickets during the exercises of Commencement week this year will be greatly modified and reduced. There will be no tickets to the Kellogg, Hardy and Hyde speaking and Commencement exercises as last year and none to either of the services in College Church. Each alumnus, including the class of Ninety-nine, must secure the dinner ticket and class button when he registers at alumni headquarters. The gallery tickets to the dinner will be in the hands of Professor Todd and Dr. Hitchcock to be distributed so far as they will go. The admission to the Glee club concert, dramatics, and promenade are on sale by the usual parties. The exercises of Class Day are essentially all admitted to by tickets and these are disposed of by appropriate class committees. The week's program will be on distribution at the Registrar's office on Saturday morning.

HARDY PRIZE DEBATERS.

The Hardy Sixteen debated in the Chapel Tuesday afternoon on the Question. "Resolved, that it is at present unwise for the college graduate to join anyone of the existing political parties." The judges were Rev. Roland C. Smith, '82, of Northampton and Prof. Zelotes W. Coombs, '88, of Worcester. The following men were chosen to compete Monday, June 26, for the prizes of thirty and twenty dollars offered by the late Alpheus Hardy of Boston: A. E. Austin, Medway; E. M. Brooks, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; John Corsa, Washington, D. C.; W. H. Gilpatrick, Putnam, Conn.; E. W. Hitchcock, Kalamazoo, Mich.; E. B. Nitchie, Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. H. Tinker, St. Johnsbury, Vt.; H. P. Whitney, Toledo, O. The question which was debated at the preliminary contest will be used in the prize debate.

JUNE LIT.

The June number of the Lit. will be issued next Thursday. Among the contents are a poem, "Credo," by E. B. Pottle; an essay, "George Eliot's Philosophy," by A. W. Towne; a story, "The Decease of Macnamara," by J. W. Barr; a poem, "The Old Piano," by W. H. King, Jr.; an essay, "Eclecticism and the Critic," by R. P. Sibley; a story, "An Informal Call," by F. G. Barnum; a poem, "Hymn to Pan," by C. B. Thompson; The "Sketch Book" will contain sketches by W. A. D., I. R. I. and E. H. W.

AMHERST FARCES.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement of the publication of a book of Amherst farces. Those desiring early copies of the book should order them now, as only a limited number will be sent here at first. The price of the book is to be one dollar. It can be ordered at the Co-operative store or from F. H. Atwood, '99, E. St. J. Ward, 1900, R. B. Dodge, 1901, and F. L. Briggs, 1902. The book will be reviewed in the next issue of THE STUDENT.

TRICOLLEGIATE MEET.

Last Saturday was as perfect a day for the first tri-collegiate meet under the new league as could be desired. The temperature was just right for athletics and the track was in good condition for fast time. A large crowd was in attendance on Pratt Field and the contest was a financial success for the management. The result, however, was a disappointment to Amherst supporters. Although a victory for Williams was anticipated before the meet, it was conceded by a much smaller margin than was the actual lead of our Berkshire opponents at the finish. Five of the former records of the old triangular league were broken and one tied. Curtenius, Bray, and Potter were the particular stars of the day, though several others did remarkably well in the events. The interest in the meet was centered chiefly upon Amherst and Williams, the old rivals, but Wesleyan had a number of good men entered and they took prominent places in the field events, where Amherst was especially weak. The bicycle race was the greatest disappointment of the meet and had it not been for a misunderstanding in the number of laps, the results would have been far different. The officials of the meet were as follows: Referee, H. A. Adams, W. A. C.; judges at finish, H. L. Dadman, B. A. A., J. T. Roche, Jr., H. A. A., W. R. Washburn, S. H. S.; field judges, Dr. F. N. Surley, S. T. S., Bascom Johnson, Y. A. A.; timers, John Graham, B. A. A., I. E. Bigelow, A. F. Bardwell; clerk of course, J. B. Moran, B. S. C.; starter, J. W. Bowler, C. G.; marshals, team managers; scorers, C. N. Stoddard, Williams, E. M. Eldridge, Wesleyan, H. I. Pratt, Amherst.

100-YARDS DASH.

Curtenius took the 100-yards dash with ease and was not pushed to his limit of 10 seconds. The time was equal to the record of the old league. Billington of Wesleyan was an easy second and Rooney of Williams beat out Patterson.

220-YARDS DASH.

Curtenius ran the 220-yards dash in the record breaking time of 22 1-5 seconds. It was an exciting event, with Billington of Wesleyan finishing in second place and Patterson of Williams third.

440-YARDS DASH.

Of all the events the 440-yards dash had the closest finish. Gladwin was pushed to his limit by Parks of Williams who kept close at his heels. Parks finished a foot behind Gladwin and Bishop of Wesleyan a fair third.

880-YARDS RUN.

Bray of Williams, the winner of three firsts, although he ran the half-mile for the record of 2 minutes 1 second, was not an easy first over Captain Klaer who ran a pretty race, pushing his opponent and finishing a close second in good time. Wiggins also ran well for Amherst, and had things his own way for third place.

MILE RUN.

Amherst has always been short of long distance men and Longstreth was the only man to enter the mile. Bray won out easily without much exertion in slow time and Carey of Wesleyan finished a good second. Longstreth pulled into third place.

TWO-MILE RUN.

Wiggins had done his part in the half-mile, Longstreth in the mile and Hawley was the man saved for the two-mile run. He ran well but did not make as good a showing as at Worcester two weeks before. Bray and Little of Williams and Carey of Wesleyan, finished in the order named. Bray improved his own record of 10 minutes 54 seconds made two years ago and ran the race in 10 minutes 23 2-5 seconds.

120-YARDS HURDLES.

As was expected, Potter of Williams won the hurdles and at the same time broke the record held by Albert Mossman of Amherst in the fast time of 16 seconds flat. Wilson who crossed the tape second gave evidence of becoming the fastest hurdler Amherst has had for several years. His time for the event was 16 4-5 seconds. Harmon of Williams was third.

220-YARDS HURDLES.

Amherst was lamentably weak in this event, not a single man qualifying for the finals. Potter of Williams took first place, Swift of Williams second, and Hurlbut of Wesleyan, third.

TWO-MILE BICYCLE.

This event should have netted Amherst nine points had there not been a misunderstanding as to the number of laps and a mishap to Dudley who was looked upon as a sure winner of first place. Four men were entered to compete for Amherst, Dudley, Brooks, Cleeland and Phelps and they all rode in good form. Dudley ran off the track and endeavoring to catch up with the bunch, paced Wells of Williams who made a strong spurt at the finish and came in first with Cleeland and Phelps close behind in second and third places, respectively. Dudley fell near the tape and received third place through the disqualification of Phelps.

BROAD JUMP.

Wesleyan was especially strong in this event and captured the first two places. Cline jumped 20 feet 10 inches, and Hurlbut took second place by a jump of 20 feet 3 1-4 inches. In the preliminaries Gladwin was unable to come any where near his own record and in the final injured his leg. The distance of 20 feet 1 1-2 inches gave him third place.

POLE VAULT.

Hurlbut of Wesleyan, as was expected, won at 10 feet 3 inches. Squires of Williams and Phillips of Amherst tied for second place with the bar at 10 feet. The points were divided.

HIGH JUMP.

Potter of Williams and Cline of Wesleyan tied in the high jump at 5 feet 8 3-8 inches. A number of Amherst men contested, but Dodds of Wesleyan captured third place.

HAMMER THROW.

The record made in the hammer throw was poor. Towne of Williams had to throw it only 90 feet 5 inches to win first place. Cullinan of Williams took second and Dodds of Wesleyan, third.

SHOT PUT.

A dark horse appeared for this event in Johnson of Williams, compelling Winslow of Amherst to take second place. Gould of Wesleyan was the best third of the many contestants.

DISCUS THROW.

This event appeared for the first time in the tricollegiate meet. Winslow of Amherst threw the quoit 100 feet 5 inches, Anderson of Williams took second place in the event and Dodds of Wesleyan third.

WESLEYAN LETTER.

This being the last letter for the present college year, The Argus takes the opportunity to express Wesleyan's appreciation of the courteous manner in which her team has been received at Amherst. It is certainly an occasion for real gratification, when so much enthusiastic rivalry can be linked with such genuine good will. The cordial attitude of the other members of the league toward Wesleyan has certainly been very pleasant. The college is more anxious than ever to do her utmost to make the league a success.

Since our last letter, the team's record has varied considerably. There has been a lack of steadiness in team work which has lost some games which we ought to have won. The game with Georgetown was lost by the score, 6 to 3. Several times when the third man was struck out, two or three were on bases, and in the fifth inning there were four on bases, yet none scored. The game with Tufts was closely contested and resulted in favor of Wesleyan by a score of 4 to 3. Up to the eighth inning Wesleyan had failed to score, but good batting brought two runs in the eighth and two in the ninth.

The victory at Amherst was of course very gratifying to our men, but the loss of two successive games with Williams has seriously affected our position in the league. We await the result of the remaining games with keen interest.

The first Annual Interscholastic championship games were held on the Andrews Field, Tuesday, May 30. The members of the association which were represented in the meet were: Hartford High school, Springfield High school, Hackettstown Collegiate Institute, Connecticut Literary Institute, Meriden High school and Stamford High school. Hartford and Springfield tied for first place, each scoring 46 points. Meriden stood next with 14 points and Stamford last with 5 points.

The annual junior debate occurred Thursday evening, June 1. The subject was: Resolved, "That it is expedient that the President of the United States be elected by popular vote." The speakers on the affirmative were H. D. Byrnes and H. T. Baker; on the negative W. B. Wilson and P. A. Parsons.

The 1900 Olla Podrida is to be out this week. The feature of particular interest this year is the individual portraits of the seniors, fraternity groups and snap-shots of the faculty.

Mr. Loper, curator of the museum, left Middletown Saturday for Newfoundland. He will spend about three months there in the interests of the Geological survey, and on his way home he will stop for a short time in Nova Scotia to obtain specimens for the museum.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC ATHLETIC MEET.

The annual Interscholastic athletic meet will be held next Saturday, June 17, at Pratt Field. The entry list has been received and is unusually large this year, consisting of one hundred and fifty men from Holyoke High school, Springfield High, Westfield High, Amherst High and Monson Academy. The preliminaries in the 100 and 220-yards dashes, the hurdles, the pole vault and high jump will be run off at 9 o'clock in the morning. The finals will take place in the afternoon. Mr. Nelligan will be referee of the games, and the other officials of the day will be chosen from among the men in College. An interesting meet is promised and Amherst should be well represented to cheer on the young athletes.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

It may be of interest to some of the student to know that Dr. Sauveur offers them all the privileges of the summer school at half the usual price, viz., for ten dollars, instead of twenty, six weeks' tuition in French, German, Spanish, Italian, Latin or Greek (or all of them, if one can arrange the hours,) including also the privilege of Dr. Rolfe's course in English. Members of the families of the Amherst Faculty have the same privilege, while the members of the Faculty themselves are invited to come in as they please, without any charge.

VOL. XXXII. Saturday, June 10, 1899. No. 31

It is with much gratification that the College learns that the committee of the trustees appointed to select a president have finally decided upon a man whom they consider capable of assuming the responsibilities of that position. President Harris of Andover Theological seminary, to whom the offer has been made, is a man of broad mind and exceptional ability. His experience in educational work and his success at Andover are sufficient guarantees of his capability to ably discharge the duties which will devolve upon our next president. Should Professor Harris consider favorably the proposition which has been made, he will be heartily welcomed to Amherst.

THE annual meet of the Western Massachusetts Interscholastic Athletic association will be held on Pratt Field next Saturday. The opportunity for earnest work on the part of the members of the College to influence students to come to Amherst should certainly not be lost. The best athletes from the leading high schools in this section will participate in these games and every member of the College not only should make a special effort to entertain the visitors and to show them the advantages which Amherst has to offer, but above all to encourage them by attending the meet. Amherst needs good athletic material next year more than ever. THE STUDENT believes that an organized effort, next Saturday, to give the visitors special attention would do much to persuade desirable men to decide in favor of Amherst.

THE result of the first Tri-collegiate Athletic meet was a surprise as well as a disappointment to the Amherst supporters. Not even the most sanguine of the Williams followers thought they would win by such an overwhelming score, and most forecasts ceded the victory to Amherst by a small margin. We counted on too many points which it was not possible to obtain. Nevertheless, the members of the Amherst team did the best they were capable of and deserve the commendation of the College. Throughout the year Captain Klaer and his men have, as a whole, done hard faithful work and conscientious training to uphold the standard set by previous teams. Although the season has not been wholly successful, yet several new men give promise of being "stars" in their events another year, and will materially strengthen the team. Only two men are taken from the team this year by graduation, and as there will probably be some athletic material in the entering class, our outlook for next season is very encouraging.

THE defeats of the ball team last Friday and Saturday by Dartmouth came as a disappointment to the College. When the team left for Hanover there were probably very few men in College who expected less than one victory for Amherst from the two games. But not only did the team lose both contests, but in one suffered a crushing defeat by a score, the equal of which has not come to our attention in any college game this season. And not only is the large score a source of disappointment, but added to this is the fact that the defeat came from a team whose equal Amherst had shown herself to be, only two weeks previous, in one of the cleanest and most interesting games ever played on Pratt Field. Each week during the baseball season it is the custom of THE STUDENT to make some editorial comment on the progress of the team, and it is our desire to make this comment fair and just in every respect. We cannot at this time represent in our columns that the team is playing in hard luck or ascribe any cause to last Saturday's overwhelming defeat other than poor and inexcusable ball playing. We regret exceedingly that we are obliged to make any such statement, but at the same time it is positively true and just. Nothing, however, is to be gained by dwelling at greater length upon the subject at this time. All possibility of winning the championship in the old league is gone, but there is still a chance for victory in the new league. Four more championship games remained to be played and let us for once see an Amherst ball team take advantage of the opportunity which lies before it, and go into these games with the determination to win each and every one and thus bring to Amherst one championship during the year.

CALENDAR.

STUDENT BANQUET.

The annual banquet of THE STUDENT board was held at The Hampton, Thursday evening. W. W. Hiscox, editor-in-chief, acted as toastmaster and called for the following toasts:

Toastmaster, William W. Hiscox
"He's doing his best; don't shoot."

Reminiscences, John H. Marriott
"You can't order remembrance out of a man's mind."

College Theatricals, Charles E. Mitchell
"All the world's a stage"

And all the men and women merely players."
Financially Speaking, Charles H. Cobb

"But, in the way of bargain, mark ye me
I'll cavil on the ninth part of a hair."

THE STUDENT, Maurice L. Farrell
"A work of real merit finds favor."

A Soda Saver, William F. Merrill
"A very merry, dancing, drinking

Laughing, quaffing and unthinking time"

Head-Lines, William E. Clapp
"A knockdown argument, 'tis but a line and a blow."

The College, David Whitcomb
"O' thou art fairer than the evening's air
Clad in the beauty of a thousand stars."

DEGREE OF PH. D.

A. H. Pierce, the Kellogg fellow, will receive the degree of Ph. D., from Harvard university at Commencement. His thesis is "Localization of Sound; A study in Auditory Space Perception." The degree from Harvard is regarded more valuable than that from any university in this country and from most foreign universities. Mr. Pierce is to be congratulated therefore upon securing this mark of brilliant scholarship from Harvard.

DR. GALLINGER.

In a recent note to a friend at Amherst, Dr. Gallinger writes from Lake Placid, in the Adirondacks: "Several weeks ago I came to Lake Placid, where Professors Kimball and Esty were so successful in finding health, and since then I have steadily gained in strength, the last week particularly has shown a very marked improvement. The peculiar virtue of this air is certainly proving very helpful to me, and I expect to be in good condition for work in the fall."

PHI BETA KAPPA INITIATIONS.

The initiation of the newly elected members of the Phi Beta Kappa society occurred last Friday evening, June 2, in the Physical Laboratory. Professor Todd gave an illustrated stereopticon lecture on "Far Away Islands of the Sea." Including about fifteen members of the faculty, twenty-nine were present. Refreshments were served by B. F. Germain.

BASEBALL.

DARTMOUTH, 7; AMHERST, 2.

On last week Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3, Amherst was defeated by Dartmouth at Hanover in the last two ball games played between these rival colleges under the old triangular league. The first of the two games was far better played than the last, with the exception of one fatal inning, a characteristic feature of most of the games Amherst has lost thus far this year. With the exception of the fifth inning, when Amherst made all her errors, and Dartmouth made all her runs, the spectators agreed that Amherst and Dartmouth were putting up the best exhibition of baseball that had been seen on the Dartmouth diamond this year.

Whitney scored in the third inning by making a single, being advanced by Messenger's base on balls, and getting home on an error by McCarten, which gave Thompson first. In the fourth inning Harris reached first on an error by McCarten, and by clever base running crossed the home plate safely. In the fifth inning after Amherst had an opportunity to retire the side on a double play, Dartmouth began to score on errors and a blocked ball lost in the crowd, and no end was put to the agony until seven runs had been scored. In the next inning Amherst was right back in form again and allowed no more scores. Thus, after apparently winning the game, Amherst let Dartmouth have it. The score was as follows:

DARTMOUTH.

DARTMOUTH, 23; AMHERST, 3.

The game with Dartmouth on Saturday was in marked contrast with the one on the previous day. Nearly the whole team had lost their nerve, especially Tinker and Righter who made a number of bad errors. The Dartmouth players, after their defeat at Amherst, had been practicing especially for Kent's pitching, and when he began the game they batted him all around, knocking him out of the box in one inning. Rushmore, who had pitched the day before and had pitched to the team for practice most of Saturday morning, was substituted and did well under the circumstances.

Kent was hit for three singles, three two-baggers, and a home run, the only home run scored on the Dartmouth diamond this year. Dartmouth accordingly piled up ten runs and Amherst had clearly lost the game. Three of the remaining innings Dartmouth was shut out, but in the fourth they scored four runs on errors and one in the sixth and two in the seventh on errors. In the eighth inning Rushmore was all tired out and allowed three hits, and for the first time forced two men home by giving bases on balls.

Thompson scored in the first inning by making a two-bagger off Cook and advanced by singles of Tinker and Righter. Varney was substituted in the box for Dartmouth and Amherst scored a single run on him in the second and another in the eighth. The score was as follows:

YALE, 14; AMHERST, 7.

Yale defeated Amherst for the second time this season, Wednesday, at New Haven by a score of 14 to 7. Yale played several substitutes, Brown taking Camp's place at short and Gibson and Hirsch being the battery. Amherst had little difficulty in finding Gibson and hit him hard so that in the fifth he was replaced by Garvan, a freshman "find." Sullivan was substituted for Hirsch. DeSaulles, Brown and Wear played well for Yale, the latter making a pretty catch of what seemed to be a three bagger off Righter's bats. He also made a home run. Wallace made a double.

Fisher started in to pitch for Amherst and stayed in until the fifth inning when he was taken out because of a sore arm, and Rushmore took his place. Fisher did well, considering that it was only his second time in the box. His control was poor, but was due to lack of practice. He struck out seven men. Rushmore also did well. Kent was tried at short stop while Fisher was in the box. He had only one chance and failed to accept it. Thompson at third put up a good game. The team still retains its tendency to swell the error column as a glance will show. Messenger led the batting, getting two hits. A disagreeable feature of the game was the umpiring of O'Brien. He had no idea of balls and strikes and persisted in calling strikes balls and vice versa. He roasted both sides equally and detracted much from the interest of the game.

Yale went first to bat and was retired in order. In Amherst's half, with two men out, Tinker singled and Harris went to first on balls. Righter cracked out a hit to deep centre field, apparently a safe hit for three bases, but Wear got it on the dead run and retired the side. Yale could not hit Fisher's "drops" and failed to tally in the second and third. Amherst was whitewashed in the second, but scored once in the third on hits by Messenger and Harris. Fisher weakened in the fourth and four Yale men crossed the plate. Wear struck out, Wallace doubled and by daring base running reached third on Brown's short hit to Fisher. Hirsch brought both runners in on a single. Waddell singled and Gibson drew a base on balls. Waddell scored on deSaulles' single but Gibson was shut off at the plate. Amherst in her half, evened matters up by scoring four runs on two singles, two errors, two bases on balls and a batter hit. Rushmore was substituted for Fisher in the fifth, but received poor support. Aided by poor fielding, Yale again scored four runs and had a safe lead. Quinby made a daring steal home when the ball was returned from catcher to pitcher. Amherst scored twice in her half on slow fielding. Amherst did not score again during the game. In the sixth Quinby singled and scored on Wear's home run to right field. Brown walked and scored on Sullivan's hit. Amherst did not score. Three more were added to Yale's list in the seventh, largely on bases on balls, due to wretched umpiring, rather than Rushmore's poor control. Amherst was shut out in her half. The game was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness. The score:

WILLIAMS, 1902, 18; AMHERST, 1902, 7.

The annual game between the Amherst and Williams freshman teams was played on Weston Field, Williamstown, Saturday, and resulted in a victory for Williams. The Amherst team was weak at the bat and made many inexcusable errors, which were partly responsible for the large score piled up by Williams. Plimpton put up the best all round game for Amherst. Hawley and Stiles also played well.

The Williams team was strengthened by Ranger, the 'varsity catcher, who supported Lawrence in good shape. Lawrence pitched well and allowed only four hits in seven innings. Ludlam and Bassett played well, and Ranger, Yarnelle and Lawrence did some heavy hitting.

Amherst scored in the first inning on a hit, a couple of bases on balls and two errors. Williams made six hits in the second and scored five runs. In the fifth, also, a couple of singles and a three-bagger yielded three more runs. Amherst also scored on two errors by Creegan and a single. Lawrence was replaced by Hodgman in the eighth inning and three hits and a base on balls were made off him in the same inning, which resulted in three runs. Six hits and three errors gave Williams six runs. Amherst was retired in the ninth without scoring. The score was as follows:

WILLISTON, 5; AMHERST, 1902, 4.

The freshman team was defeated at Williston at Easthampton, Wednesday, in a close and exciting game. The fielding was for the most part first class, short stop being the weak position on both sides. Keedy made a beautiful double play to Dennen in the third inning. Amherst was not able to hit Westcott to any extent, while Williston secured eight hits off of Keith. The score was as follows:

FACULTY, 19; PHI BETA KAPPA, 13.

On Pratt Field Wednesday afternoon the Amherst Faculty plainly demonstrated that if nine professors are armed with the baseball bats instead of the blue pencil they can speedily flunk the smartest "Wizards" in College. After heaping up a score of eighteen to three in four innings, they eased up a bit and, led by "Hoppy" who figured on first angle, obligingly made errors enough to allow "Dutch" Newlin and a few colleagues to try their legs at base running. Some of the features of the game were the wonderful hitting and base running of "Levi," urged along by the inspiring cheer of "ἐντεῦθεν ἐξ ἐλαύνει," the phenomenal slides of "Symie" the beautiful work of "Little Doc" at back-stop, and the eager eyes of Umpire "Tommy."

The crowds on the bleachers were unanimous in support of the "profs." and their favorites could not help responding to the sounds of "eins, eins, eins noch eins," other German, French and Greek phrases, and the music of "Do, Mi, Sol, Do, etc.," "Just one girl," and Lohengrin's wedding march.

For Phi Beta Kappa, President Brooks and "Ernie" Wilkins led the fielding (in errors,) while "Ikey" Goddard showed how readily easy problems got through his legs.

The error sheet is made up as follows:

GAMES OF THE WEEK.

The game scheduled to-day with the Boston University of Law School has been cancelled.

The class championship game will be played on Pratt Field next Wednesday afternoon. The junior players have been practicing nearly a week, but the team is not yet definitely picked. The Sophomores are also practicing, but Captain Kretschmar has been laid up with a sprained ankle.

This afternoon Dartmouth and Williams play their final championship game on the Williamstown diamond. Dartmouth has already won enough games so that she is practically sure of the pennant, even if she should not defeat Williams to-day as expected.

Other games played this afternoon are: Yale at Princeton, Toronto at Boston college, Lewiston Athletics at Bates, Andover at Exeter, Vermont at Holy Cross, Notre Dame at Michigan, Pennsylvania at Harvard, New York A. C. at Newark A. C.

MUSICAL CLUB ELECTIONS.

At a meeting of the Musical association last Monday evening, Henry Kellogg Robinson, 1900, of Worcester was elected leader of the Glee club for the coming year; Donald Winchester Brown, 1900, of New York, N. Y., leader of the Banjo club; and Harold Waters Burdon, 1900, of West Newton leader, of the Mandolin club.

SENIOR CLASS BOOK.

The senior class book which is to be published by the Forbes Lithographic company of Boston is now in the press. It will contain fifty pages and will be bound in morocco with gold seal and lettering and gilt edges. The class statistics and pictures and the usual material will be printed in the book. The Albertype process will be used for the reproduction of groups and individual pictures.

AMHERST HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The headquarters of the Mary Mattoon chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution were opened last Monday in the old Emerson house, North Prospect street. There occurred also the informal opening of the rooms of the Amherst historical society, which has recently been organized through the efforts of Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, the regent of the chapter. The occasion was of unusual interest. Mrs. Todd gave an address of welcome, in which she told of the efforts which had been put forth to furnish the room, and also something of those who had aided by liberal contributions of money and articles. Dr. W. J. Holland, '69, has given $100, and Prof. H. B. Adams has made valuable contributions.

Professor Grosvenor made an address and Burges Johnson, '99, gave "Some incidents of Amherst history." Mrs. Julia Ward

Howe gave an address and also repeated her poem "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Professor Genung then sang the hymn.

The formal opening of the historical society will be held in a few weeks. It is planned to keep the room open for visitors on certain days and to enlarge as fast as possible the number of articles of historical interest.

POPE BICYCLE AND WHITCOMB CUP

The Whitcomb cup awarded each year to that member of the freshman class who wins the greatest number of points in all the College athletic meets of the year has been won by P. W. Blanchard, who had a total of 26 points to his credit.

The Pope bicycle, which through the generosity of Mr. A. A. Pope of the Pope Manufacturing company has for the last four years been given to that member of the College who has won the greatest number of points in the athletic meets of the year, was again awarded to H. W. Gladwin, 1902.

BOOK REVIEW.

"Stars and Telescopes," by David P. Todd, M.A., Ph. D., '75, professor of Astronomy and director of the observatory, Amherst College. With maps and 219 illustrations. 12 mo. cloth, gilt top. $2.00. Little, Brown & Co., publishers, 254 Washington street, Boston.

This newest work of Professor Todd, following closely upon his "New Astronomy," furnishes a plain yet complete statement of the science of Astronomy at the present time. Not claiming to be composed wholly of original matter, it is based upon the ninth edition of Lynn's "Celestial Motions." The chapter on "The Cosmogony" gives Dr. See's theory of cosmic evolution. The various sources whence the material is derived, and also the larger portion of the book containing Professor Todd's own researches and discoveries are distinguished both in the table of contents and in the text. The vast number of illustrations, with a single exception, are wholly new additions, the author's own work or culled from the most noted astronomers in this country and abroad.

"Stars and Telescopes" begins with a concise outline of astronomical discovery. At the end of the first chapter, as at the end of each of the other seventeen chapters, is quite an extended bibliography to direct the reader who wishes to pursue the specific subject to further detail. Scattered throughout the book are pictures of some of the most noted astronomers of the past accompanied by terse biographies. There are chapters on "The Earth," "The Moon," "The Sun," "The Solar System," "The Planets." Such astronomical phenomena as "Solar Eclipses," "Comets," "Meteoric Bodies," are dealt with, the latter subject being of especial interest owing to the meteoric showers expected this year and in 1900. There are chapters on "The Calendar," "The Astronomical Relations of Light," "Solar Physics," "The Cosmogony," "The Fixed Stars." Receiving nearly equal treatment with the stars themselves, the instruments with which Astronomy has been developed as a science are described in detail. At the end of the book is an interesting chapter on "Telescopes and Houses for Them." Thus "Stars and Telescopes" is practically a compendium of Astronomy in its many aspects, dealing with the subject in such a masterly way that, within the compass of its four hundred pages, it is a model of complete and scholarly scientific exposition.

ALUMNI NOTES.

ADMISSION.

The four-year curriculum of the Classical Course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for the Freshman class must be at least sixteen years of age, and correspondingly older for advanced standing. Prescribed subjects for examination include Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Ancient History, and English.

The four-year curriculum of the Scientific Course leads to the Degree of Bachelor of Science. Prescribed subjects for examination are as above, omitting Greek and adding Modern Languages, History of England and of the United States, Modern Geography, and Chemistry or Physics.

Preliminary examinations are allowed for admission to either of the above courses.

Graduates of certain preparatory schools are admitted on certificate, without examination. The certificates and pass-cards of the Regents of the University of the State of New York are also accepted in place of examinations.

Porter Admission Prize of $50 for best examination for admission to the Freshman class.

For admission to advanced standing, full equivalents are accepted.

Regular entrance examinations at Amherst, June 22d and 23rd, 1899, and simultaneously at preparatory schools by request.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Graded Diplomas, B. A. and B. S., are awarded at the conclusion of the foregoing courses. Non-competitors for these degrees may pursue special courses.

The academic year is 37 weeks in duration, divided into three terms. The summer vacation of 12 weeks begins with the last week in June. Commencement, June 28, 1899.

Tuition fee, $110 yearly. Privileges of the Pratt Gymnasium free to all students.

The annual award of fellowships and prizes exceeds $3,000.

The beneficiary funds of the College exceed $240,000. Students may receive assistance from the income of these funds.

The collections for instruction in Art and the Natural Sciences are unsurpassed.

Fully equipped laboratories for instruction in Physics, Chemistry and Biology.

The College Library contains about 70,000 volumes, and is freely accessible to all students, without fees.

The Pratt Athletic Field, five minutes' walk from the College campus, is the finest college field in the country. Open to all students.

For further information, catalogues and examination papers, address, The Registrar of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.

The editorials and clippings taken from the following papers reflect the general sentiment and opinion in regard to the probable selection of Dr. George Harris as president of the College.

Springfield Republican :

It can be positively stated that the trustees of Amherst College are not in pursuit of President Slocum for the next head of the Hampshire county institution, and the revelations of the Boston dinner of Amherst men go to show that they are seriously considering calling Prof. George Harris, the head of Andover theological seminary. The facts appear that the sub-committee of the trustees have settled upon Professor Harris, that he is being communicated with, and that the full board have yet taken no formal and binding action. All this would agree with the declaration of H. L. Bridgman, through the Brooklyn Standard-Union, that Amherst's next president is to be a clergyman and graduate of that institution. It will also serve to remind Amherst men of how near Professor Harris came to being called when Dr. Gates was preferred instead, upon the ground that the selection of Professor Harris would involve the College in the now historic and happily departed "Andover controversy." Dartmouth had no such fears, but went to Andover and brought away a president who has given her a new and strong lease of life. Since Dr. Tucker's departure, Dr. Harris has been president of the Andover faculty. The friends of the seminary will not wish to let him go, but he may well argue, as did Dr. Tucker, that the day of its peril and stress is over. Dr. Harris, who was graduated at Amherst in 1866, is fifty-five years of age and can expect to have fifteen or twenty years of good work before him. So, while Amherst's presidency is yet unsettled, it appears to be in the way of settlement.

Boston Record :

Amherst's choice for president is apparently not a young man to be sure, but a veteran and a sage; a man of such notable reputation in the educational field as to make his availability apparent to everybody. Dr. George Harris' selection if finally confirmed promises an old-time orthodox Amherst regime.

Worcester Gazette :

Some one "leaked" in the committee to choose a president for Amherst College, so the announcement cannot be kept as a surprise for Commencement time. Most of the qualifications for the office are well developed by Dr. Harris, who is popular and influential among the alumni of the institution. The only regret expressed seems to be that he was not chosen some years ago. But the College has maintained a healthy growth in spite of the controversies over its presidents. Dr. Harris is liberal in his religious views, is an excellent scholar and has abundant good sense.

The Rev. H. L. Bridgman, a classmate of Dr. Harris, writes as follows in the Brooklyn Standard-Union :

To say that Dr. Harris is a broad-gauge, all-round, well-equipped man is but to tell a familiar tale to all who have known him or observed him carefully, while to those who knew him in College the duty that now confronts him is but the logical outcome of the characteristics of the early days. Harris as a student was eminent for two qualities which are both rare and fundamental—sterling common sense and the ability to mind his own business. Upon these principles his life has been developed, so that whether as a successful pastor of a city church, or as a teacher and head of a great and historic theological institution, he has carried on his work forcibly, fearlessly and successfully. Independence and sincerity of thought were in the college days strongly stamped upon Harris' work, and particularly in the closing year, under that great mental leader and moral teacher, the late President Seelye, his record was particularly strong and characteristic. As an educator for sixteen years at Andover, President Harris has justified the faith of his friends. Progressive without radicalism; liberal without vagaries; anchored to principles and essentials and caring little for forms and methods, he has by clear, saving common sense and intelligence preserved the institution and its prestige from what might otherwise have been disastrous theological shipwreck and extinction.

As an administrator there can be no doubt that President Harris will prove himself equal to the demands of the position. He understands men both young and old. Respecting his own individuality and believing in his own integrity, he respects and believes in those of others. Questions of discipline will be met with tact, judgment and honesty, and the student who means well, and is willing to play fairly, will find the government of Amherst both liberal and just, with sufficient elasticity for the exuberance of youth, yet with firmness that will command respect and obedience. Harris and his record are guarantees that when he becomes president of Amherst the watchwords will be life and progress; that the models and methods of the past, obsolete and outgrown, will be laid aside, and that the modern spirits and ideas will be met with open-minded and clear-eyed intelligence. The alumni of Amherst who have waited long have not waited in vain, and those who wish the College early and complete deliverance from all its troubles, need wait no longer to prove their loyalty by their acts, and to demonstrate their faith by their works. In the meantime the class of Sixty-six, having furnished to the College, a president, a treasurer, a professor and two trustees, may be pardoned for a little honest pride in what it has done, and in the fact that it has yet remaining more of the raw material of which successful men are made.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAMME.

The Commencement committee, consisting of Dr. Hitchcock, and Professors Todd and Churchill, have arranged a programme which in point of interest promises to be of much more than usual significance. The aim has been to make the Ninety-nine Commencement a distinctive Amherst alumni gathering and every effort is being made to carry out this purpose.

The anniversary will be notable for several reasons, among which will be the formation of the Alumni Athletic association, the unveiling of the memorial bust of the late Prof. W. S. Tyler and the action upon the proposed plans for the erection of a new College Hall. One of the pleasantest features of the Commencement, will undoubtedly be the presentation of a loving cup to Dr. Hitchcock by the alumni in recognition of his long and faithful service in the College. There could be no more fitting time for the expression of esteem and affection than this the fiftieth anniversary of Dr. Hitchcock's graduation. In this connection the reunion of the "fifty year class" will be especially interesting. In further carrying out the aim to make this coming anniversary especially interesting to alumni, the service in honor of Rev. Elias Riggs, D. D., of Constantinople, of the class of 1829 and the oldest living alumnus will be unique. Dr. Riggs has now passed his ninetieth year and is still strong and active. As the oldest missionary of the American Board he occupies a venerable place in the history of missions. Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, D. D., '79, will deliver the address. This interesting service will be presided over by Rev. Daniel Bliss, D. D., '52, president of the Syrian Protestant College, Beirut. The award of prizes for Amherst songs offered by the Amherst club of Chicago will be announced at the close of the alumni dinner. Among the after dinner speakers will be C. P. Searle, '76, for the Boston alumni; M. W. Tyler, '62, for the New York alumni; W. M. Howland, '63, for the Chicago alumni; Prof. F. J. E. Woodbridge, '89, for the Northwestern alumni; Rev. C. M. Lamson, D. D., '64, Rev. W. J. Holland, D. D., L. L. D., '69, and A. H. Dakin, '84. The executive committee of the alumni consists of Dr. Hitchcock, '49, chairman; D. P. Todd, '75, secretary; G. E. Fisher, '46; W. C. Esty, '60; R. M. Woods, '69; H. P. Field, '80; R. C. Smith, '82; W. E. Parker, '84; A. C. James, '89. The chief usher at the Commencement exercises will be A. V. Lyall, 1900. The alumni clerk will be C. B. MacDuffee, 1900.

CLASS REUNIONS.

The coming Commencement will be characterized by a large number of class reunions, the most notable of which perhaps will be that of the class of Forty-nine at the home of Dr. Hitchcock. The members in attendance will make their headquarters at the home of Dr. Hitchcock and the dinner will also be held there. Among those who are expected to be present at this fiftieth anniversary are Hon. Henry S. Hudson, Yorkville, Ill., Prof. William J. Rolfe, Cambridge, Rev. Elijah W. Stoddard, Succasunna, N. J. John Woodbridge, Chicago, Ill., and John H. Washburn, New York.

The class of Seventy-nine is preparing for an enthusiastic reunion with headquarters at the Town Hall. It is expected that about twenty-five will be present at the anniversary. A. L. Hardy, superintendent of schools, has the arrangements in charge.

The Eighty-nine decennial promises to be one of the most elaborate and largest reunions ever held in Amherst. The committee expects about sixty members present. Hitchcock Hall has been engaged and the entire house will be at the disposal of the class. The following interesting program has been arranged for anniversary week:

SATURDAY.—(Afternoon) Championship baseball game, Amherst vs. Wesleyan. (Evening.) Ivy exercises.

SUNDAY.—Ice-cream for dinner. (Evening.) Social gathering and song.

MONDAY.—(Morning.) Coach ride and lunch, complimentary to the ladies. (Afternoon.) Championship baseball game, Amherst vs. Williams. Eighty-nine attends with music at a suitable distance, and will occupy reserved section of grand-stand. (Evening.) Reception to the class by Mrs. David P. Todd, 7 to 9 o'clock. Senior dramatics, 9 o'clock.

TUESDAY.—(Morning.) Class antics, assisted by the Second Regiment Band, M. V. M., of Springfield, Mass., especially engaged for Eighty-nine for the entire day. (Afternoon.) Grove exercises. Eighty-nine Gym. exercises on the Common, followed by a band concert. (Evening.) Society receptions. Eighty-nine decennial dinner, Hitchcock Hall.

WEDNESDAY.—During the morning Eighty-nine's especially engaged Hurdy Gurdy outfit, with Tambourine soloist, will beat the band. (Noon.) Free lunch in the Gym.

The committee on arrangements includes R. Jones, C. S. Stearns, A. C. James, S. W. French, H. H. Bosworth and H. C. Emerson.

AMHERST FARCES.

The book of Amherst farces written by E. B. Pottle, '99, mention of which has been made in these columns the past few weeks, will be placed on sale Monday. The following review of the book was written for THE STUDENT by Professor Grosvenor:

Every sphere of life has its deliciously humorous phases. Nowhere do they more abound than in the experience of the undergraduate student. They freshen and relax his mind, brighten the monotony of daily study, and furnish for after years the most distinct and abiding impressions of college days. In them class reunions find a large part of their point and zest. Alumni, when they get together, generally leave the lessons and lectures and sermons in oblivion. But they rarely fail to refurbish the old jokes and stories and repeat them delightfully and delightedly upon one another.

These farces are given life by that touch of nature which makes all of us college people kin. They aim at "the setting forth of some of the humorous phases of undergraduate life." With a kindly and never-stinging wit and with a joviality free from coarseness, the author tells ludicrous tales of things which may have happened or which resemble other things that really did happen on our College hill.

Often farces so exaggerate as only to distort. Then caricature becomes grotesqueness. These tales however are faithful in their portrayal of the comic side. Whoever begins the book will read it through with increasing merriment to its conclusion, all the while reminded of similar experiences, his own or some friend's. The reader appropriates to himself the comical woes of "The Late Mr. Rollins" or the embarrassed and imperilled plans in "Who Laughs Last." The least probable of the characters is Billie Fairfield, "Première Danseuse." What young man ever lost a golden opportunity like his through ignorance of Browning! Still it may be urged that this thick headed youth grew wiser later on! The most appealing and the best told of the farces is the dainty, serio-comic, half-pathetic "Rose." Many an alumnus will recognize on the lips of Willie Hollis the very words he himself once said or tried to say in just such circumstances and which he perhaps imagined he had afterwards forgotten. But not always do these tragedies to one party and mere passing episodes to the other end with such simplicity and beauty.

In each farce the individuality of the character is well sustained. Ponderous Mrs. MacGregor, goodly Mrs. Dimple, honest Bessie Bent, ingenuous Pollie, everybody, are in word and act true to their role. The women are indeed more interesting than and superior to the men, but that, we may presume, is as it should be. The author has made his imaginary sketches of people and things seem realities. What he undertook to do he has well done. The reader is none the less conscious that the author will some day do far better things with his pen.

The volume is gotten up in artistic form. The cover is tasteful and attractive and invites to acquisition. For alumnus or undergraduate these provide a souvenir of days that can never grow old and that never can lose their reminiscent charm.

EDWIN A. GROSVENOR.

THE JUNE LIT.

The June number of the Lit. which came out on Wednesday is the best issue that has been published by the new board. It opens with a short poem entitled "Credo" by E. B. Pottle, which is simple in style and beautiful in thought. An essay on "George Eliot's Philosophy" by Arthur W. Towne shows evidence of a careful study of her work, with a view of determining exactly what her philosophy of life was. The writer notices some inconsistencies in her utterances and finds that "the keystone of all her novels is human brotherhood." W. H. King, Jr., in a pleasing bit of verse, indulges in some reminiscences on "The Old Piano." "The Decease of MacNamara" is a character story by J. W. Barr, in which he introduced us to the troubles of MacNamara, a skillful bridge-builder who like many others of his kind has his failings, which in this case would have led to rather disastrous results had not the despondent bridge-builder's plan been frustrated by the clever drug clerk. The story is well told, and the characters pretty accurately portrayed. The dialect is also good. Robert Sibley has an essay on "Eclecticism and the Critic," in which the writer begins by taking up the essays on Arnold and Jowett in Mr. Leslie Stephan's latest book on studies as a case in point. He then proceeds to discuss in a logical manner the eclectic philosophy as a basis for criticism and also the different methods and duties of the critic. The "Hymn to Pan" by C. B. Thompson is a fanciful address of some merit to the god Pan. "An Informal Call" by F. G. Barnum is a rather amusing story of the reminiscences of four old grads, in which one relates an experience of freshman year when through the "horse play" of fraternity initiation he was obliged to call upon and propose to a certain Smith girl whom he had never seen. As might be imagined the experience was not altogether felicitous for the Freshman.

The "Sketch Book" contains a pretty descriptive poem of "Night" by I. R. I. W. A. Dyer has a happy little sketch on the beauty of the Amherst scenery, entitled "A Springtime Reverie," and E. H. Wilkins has a well written sketch on "Advancement," contrasting a scene on the outskirts of Rome as it is to-day with it what it was twenty years ago. The editorial page mentions the new book of Mr. Pottle's, entitled "The Late Mr. Rollins and other Farces," which has just left the press. Editorially the Lit. gives three good reasons why an honorary senior society should be formed at Amherst.

The "Window Seat" contains a very bright article entitled "Mr. Dooley on Mass Meetings" (with profuse apologies). The writer has mastered the dialect perfectly and succeeded in getting in about as many contradictions, inconsistencies and incongruities as were in accordance with the exigencies of the case.

"The Mail Bag Man" has some selections from the Trinity Tablet the Western College Magazine, Columbia Lit. and The Bowdoin Quill.

Several books are reviewed, among which are Professor Grosvenor's translation of Duruy's "Ancient History of the East," Professor Todd's new book on "Stars and Telescopes" and "The Late Mr. Rollins" by Emery B. Pottle, which is reviewed by Professor Genung.

CENTRAL NEW YORK ALUMNI.

At a meeting of Amherst alumni held on June 9 at Cortland, N. Y., there was organized the Amherst Alumni association of Central New York. Membership in the association will be open to all alumni living in that section of the state, which includes Syracuse, Binghamton, Auburn, Elmira, Ithaca, Cortland and several smaller towns. About one hundred graduates are located in that vicinity and are only a comparatively few miles apart. During the evening letters were read from Professors Tyler, Genung, Wood and Dr. Gallinger of the Amherst faculty. Communications of hearty approval and support were also received from many of the alumni, who although unable to be present at this meeting will become members of the association. Among others were those from Rev. Samuel D. Hopkins, D. D., '32, of Auburn, N. Y., the fifth oldest living graduate of the College, Rt. Rev. Frederic D. Huntington, '39, of Syracuse, bishop of the diocese of Central New York, Hon. John B. Stanchfield, '76, of Elmira, and Hon. Israel T. Deyo, '79, of Binghamton. Giles H. Stilwell, '81, of Syracuse was elected president of the association, and Rev. John T. Stone, '91, of Cortland was chosen secretary. The executive committee consisting of the officers and three other members will arrange for the dinner which will be held annually during the holidays in one of the cities in that section.

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET TO-DAY.

A DONATION.

A generous donation has been received by the College from a well-known business man in New York, an old friend of Doctor Hitchcock and Professor Tyler, the sum of which is to be used for a few material needs for which there is no fund endowed. The gift was intended to supply articles outside of the educational departments and was left to the discretion of Dr. Hitchcock as to how it might best be expended. During the summer the synchronous clock arrangement is to be put into the buildings and a new flagstaff, for which there has been a long-felt need, will be raised on the Chapel tower.

TRIANGULAR LEAGUE RELATIONS.

While the triangular league has already been for us a healthy stimulus toward a greater interest and a higher standard in our athletics, the gentlemanly and cordial manner in which our team has been received both at Amherst and at Williams has been not the least pleasant feature of our new relations. It is not only a token of the good feeling which exists in our rivalry but is prophetic of the future success of the league.—Wesleyan Argus.

BASEBALL SCORES.

The result of college baseball games the past week was as follows: Saturday, June 10—Williams 14, Dartmouth 2; Princeton 6, Yale 2; Andover 11, Exeter 8; Harvard 7, Pennsylvania 6; Brown 10, New York A. C. 1. Monday, June 12—Pennsylvania 8, Brown 2. Wednesday, June 14—Harvard 9, Brown 0.

SPRINGFIELD CLUB ELECTIONS.

The annual meeting of the Springfield club for the election of officers for the ensuing year was held last Monday evening at the Chi Phi house. The following officers were elected: President, A. L. Halford, 1900; vice-president, A. W. Towne, 1901; secretary, R. J. Cleeland, 1902; treasurer, F. B. Cross, 1902; chairman of executive committee, A. L. Halford.

VOL. XXXII. Saturday, June 17, 1899. No. 32

THE spring rushing will begin next week. The inter-fraternity rules governing the past two rushing seasons have been adopted again with slight changes which experience has shown to be needed. The justice and fairness of the present system is apparent and the faithful adherence to the rules by all the fraternities should make the coming season more harmonious than ever.

THE Commencement committee of the faculty is to be heartily congratulated upon the excellent program that has been arranged for Commencement week. In addition to the regular exercises several special features have been arranged, mention of which is made in another column. The prospects for the return of an unusually large number of alumni are bright, and the Ninety-nine Commencement should go down in history as one of the most successful ever held by the Colleges.

THE publication of a book of Amherst farces is worthy of special notice, because it is in the line of literary work which greatly benefits the College. A few other Amherst books of various kinds have been published hitherto and it is only to be regretted that more work of this nature is not attempted by College men. Typical Amherst books of all kinds draw considerable attention to the College. They give in a vivid and realistic manner an insight into our undergraduate life, which can be obtained in hardly any other way.

It is with much pleasure we note that another Amherst alumni association has been added to the already long list. The Amherst Alumni association of Central New York which was organized last week promises to become one of much value not only to the alumni immediately interested, but also to the College in sustaining and increasing the graduates' interest in their Alma Mater. This new organization, as well as the unusual activity among the alumni throughout the country during the past year, goes to prove that the graduates' loyalty toward old Amherst increases as the years pass.

AFTER considerable delay the College flagstaff destroyed last fall is to be replaced by a more serviceable one. Through the generosity of a New York business man, who objects to having his name made public, the treasurer of the College has been provided with funds sufficient for the erection of a suitable staff on the most conspicuous spot in Amherst, the top of the Chapel tower. The change in the position of the staff has its advantages, since the old place by the Octagon is the scene each fall of numerous class rushes and there the staff is liable to be damaged. The procurement of an available flagstaff now raises the question of the advisability of adopting a College pennant. Amherst has never had such an authorized emblem and at present there seems to be a strong sentiment favoring the adoption of a pennant. THE STUDENT would suggest that a competitive contest for pennant designs be inaugurated by the proper authorities and that the matter be discussed at the approaching Commencement.

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

A few copies of the 1900 Olio left over from last winter will be placed on sale at the Co-operative store during Commencement week.

E. E. GREEN, Manager.

All Seniors who are not going to the class banquet must hand in their names to the chairman of the supper committee before noon to-day. H. B. MARSH, Chairman.

In accordance with the usual custom THE STUDENT will not be published next Saturday. The Commencement number will be issued Tuesday, June 27, and will be placed on sale at the conclusion of the grove exercises. Its contents will include in addition to the reports of the championship baseball games and other college news a full review of the College organizations for the year, the ivy, grove and class orations and poems in full, and accounts of alumni gatherings. Persons wishing extra copies should order them at once from the Business Manager.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

The list of Seniors for the Commencement program will be prepared Friday, June 23, at 4 P. M. In accordance with the regulations of the faculty all work must be completed at 4 o'clock on that day.

REGISTRAR.

The arrangements for carriages to the Senior Prom. has been put by the committee in the hands of a manager. Special effort will be made to obtain better carriages than usual, but the regular price of fifty cents a seat per trip will not be increased. Tickets will be sold, on which the number of the hack and the place and time of the appointment will be written. Preference in the matter of time will be given according to application. The hack drivers are instructed not to wait for any who are not ready at the appointed time, but to meet the next appointment. Any who may be delayed will be cared for after all others have been accommodated. In order to prevent confusion after the Prom. all parties must await in the Gymnasium the announcement of their hacks. This plan as operated at the Junior Prom, depends for its success on the promptness of each party. Special arrangements may be made through the manager for carriages at any other time during Commencement. Tickets may be purchased at any time of the manager.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

The Rev. P. S. Moxom, D. D., of Springfield will preach in the College Church to-morrow morning.

Though nothing is certain, as yet it is expected that a large delegation, probably over thirty men, will go to the Northfield Conference from Amherst.

The Y. M. C. A. will provide tickets that will admit its members during the vacation to the privileges of almost all the town and city associations of the country. All members who wish these tickets can obtain them from Dr. Clark at the office as soon as they arrive.

Sunday evening at 7-00 o'clock there will be a special Y. M. C. A. meeting. At this meeting each committee is to present its plans and aims for the coming year and will state how every association member can co-operate with it in its work. Thus the whole association work will be brought before the members. Though the meeting is primarily for committee men all who are interested are cordially invited to attend. The aim of the entire association will also be presented.

The subjects and leaders for the class-prayer meetings to-morrow will be as follows:

1900.—“Numbering our Days.” Ps. 90: 12; Eccl. 12: 1-7. Christopher St. Clair.

1902.—“Looking Backward,” 2 Cor. 13: 5. J. A. Nelson.

IN BRIEF.

The deciding game in the Yale-Princeton ball series will be played on the Polo Grounds, New York, this afternoon at 3-00 o'clock.

Curtenius, 1901, will enter the 100 and 220-yards dashes in the annual amateur championship meet to be held at Riverside, June 24.

Professor Churchill's reading of “Beowulf,” which was postponed on account of Professor Genung's lecture last week, was held last evening.

The Court Square theater in Springfield has closed for the season. Maude Adams appeared there in “Romeo and Juliet,” Friday night.

Professor Genung will spend the vacation at Camden, Me. He hopes to complete the rewriting of his well-known text book, “Practical Rhetoric.”

H. K. Robinson, J. R. Herrick and F. P. Young will constitute the committee to judge the voices of candidates for the Glee club next term.

An invitation was received this week for a delegation of Amherst students to march in the Holyoke parade to be held in honor of President McKinley to-day.

Dr. Phillips expects to go to Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, for the summer, soon after Commencement. He will attend the conference of the Chicago Training school while there.

Professor and Mrs. Grosvenor expect to spend several weeks this summer with Gen. and Mrs. Lew Wallace, Quaker Hill, N. Y. A part of the vacation they will be at Millbury.

Besides the Latin newspaper mentioned in THE STUDENT June 3, there may also be found in the reading room of the Library a paper entitled Praeco Latinus. It is published in Philadelphia.

Prof. George Harris, '66, of Andover Theological seminary was in town recently. He is now at Bar Harbor, Me., and it is not expected that he will be able to attend the Commencement exercises.

The Aggie-Williston field day was held at Easthampton last Saturday afternoon. Aggie won by 41 points. Mr. Nelligan was referee and among the other officials were F. H. Klear, 1900, and H. W. Gladwin and E. S. Wiggins, 1901.

A. E. Morse, ex-1901, who has been employed in the Princeton university library the past year, has returned to his home on Northampton Road, and will resume his studies in Amherst next fall.

F. O. Reed, '99, who has been engaged as assistant instructor in French for next year, leaves for Europe to-day. He will spend most of the summer in Paris for the study of the French language.

In addition to graduation addresses already noted, Professor Grosvenor will deliver the address before the graduating class of the Fall River High school, June 30. Subject, “The Part of America in the World.”

The tennis matches with Amherst in doubles and singles which were to have been played Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, respectively, were canceled on account of Amherst's default.—Williams Weekly.

Professor Grosvenor will deliver the closing lecture of the “Old South Course” in the Old South Meeting House, Boston, August 30, on the subject, “What the World has Thought and Said of Washington.”

In competition for the Leland prize, commencing with next year, the junior and sophomore classes will have to learn new dumb-bell drills. This requirement is made in order to make the contest fairer for the Freshmen.

The Western Massachusetts Library association met Tuesday, June 13, in the Town Hall. Librarian Fletcher read a report on the recent national gathering of librarians at Atlanta, Ga., and was elected a vice-president of the association.

Professor Grosvenor has an article on “The American Proposals for a Permanent Commission of Arbitration” in the Chicago Tribune of June 3. He has also two articles on “Athens as a Historic City” in the Chicago Record of June 6 and 13.

The committee on the Union Lecture course has organized with the following officers: Chairman, Prof. J. W. Crook; secretary, W. I. Fletcher; treasurer, David Barry; assistant secretary, Christopher St. Clair; assistant treasurer, J. W. Kellogg.

At the teacher's institute to be held at Laurel Park, commencing June 26, Professor Tyler will deliver three lectures upon the following topics: “The Teacher and the State,” “Growth,” and “The Teachers' Problem.” Librarian Fletcher will speak upon these subjects: “The Public Library and the School,” and “How to use a Library.”

The managers of the Amherst & Sunderland street railway company have built a dam across the river at North Amherst in the rear of Frank N. Dickinson's house and thus provided a fine place for swimming which has been especially appreciated by the students.

Professor Todd has received as a gift for the library of the Amherst College observatory a complete set of Nature, one of the leading scientific London weeklies. Many of the early volumes are out of print and are very rare. The set includes sixty volumes.

Provided that a sufficient number of members can be obtained the second session of the summer class in Chemistry at the Agricultural college will be held during July and August. The course will consist of practical work in organic and inorganic Chemistry.

The study of Spanish will be one of the principal features of the Amherst Summer school. The classes will be in charge of Prof. R. D. Cortina, principal of the Academy of Languages, 44 West Thirty-fourth street, New York, N. Y. There will also be a Spanish table.

The order for class day programs this year has been placed with Dreka of Philadelphia. The colors will be purple and will have the Amherst seal and " '99 Class Day " printed in white. The programs will contain the usual printed matter, and five new cuts appropriate to the different exercises of the day will be used.

The class of Ninety-eight has sent group pictures of the 1897-98 College football, baseball and athletic teams to be placed in the Resort at the Gymnasium. The pictures are framed in Flemish oak. It is hoped that future classes will follow this custom of presenting pictures of the teams of their senior year.

The Alpha Delta Phi team defeated the Phi Delta Theta team on Blake Field, Thursday, June 8, by a score of 11 to 9. Friday, June 9, the Phi Delta Theta team defeated the Delta Upsilon team, 9 to 8, on Blake field. The Phi Kappa Psi team was defeated Monday on Blake field by the Phi Delta Theta team, the score being 11 to 10.

The passenger department of the Central Vermont railway has issued an attractive pamphlet entitled "Summer Homes in the Green Hills of Vermont, Islands and Shores of Lake Champlain and Resorts of the Adirondacks and Canada." As the name implies the book is an admirable guide for parties seeking pleasant places to spend the summer.

Commencement exercises at Smith college begin to-morrow with the baccalaureate sermon at 4-00 o'clock. The ivy exercises will be held Monday morning and the art reception in the afternoon. The Glee club promenade will begin at 7-00 o'clock in the evening, followed by a reception at 8-00 o'clock. The regular Commencement exercises will be held Tuesday at 10-30 o'clock, with Richard S. Storrs, '39, as orator.

The annual Commencement exercises of the Massachusetts Agricultural college begin to-morrow with a baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Dr. C. S. Walker. In the evening Rev. Lawrence M. Colfelt of Philadelphia will address the Y. M. C. A. Monday, prize contests in speaking and oratory will be held, followed by fraternity banquets. The alumni and trustees meet Tuesday morning and in the afternoon occur the class day exercises. The graduating exercises will be held Wednesday morning.

GAMES OF THE WEEK.

This afternoon at Middletown, Amherst begins the second half of her championship games. The team lost the first two games with Wesleyan and now Captain Righter and his men have an opportunity to retrieve themselves for the defeats in the early part of the season. To secure the pennant necessitates the winning of the four remaining games. Dartmouth has closed her baseball season and the only games remaining to be played in either league are those with Amherst. The final game between Wesleyan and Amherst will be played on Pratt Field a week from to-day, June 25.

Monday, Amherst plays on Weston Field the third game with Williams. Our team has already shown itself capable of defeating these opponents, and in spite of the unexpected showing made by the Berkshire players in winning both games last week from Dartmouth, Amherst expects her team to win. The regular Commencement game with Williams is to be played on Pratt Field the Monday of Commencement week, June 26, with advantages in favor of the home team.

Other college games to be played to-day are: Cornell vs. Michigan at Grand Rapids, University of Toronto at Bates, Yale vs. Princeton at New York, Holy Cross at Harvard. Next Wednesday, Lafayette plays at Cornell, Holy Cross at Brown. Thursday, Yale plays at Harvard, and a week from Wednesday, June 27, Harvard plays the return game at Yale.

BASEBALL.

SOPHOMORES, 10; JUNIORS, 5.

The Sophomores defeated the Juniors Wednesday in the final game of the inter-class league postponed from last fall, thus winning the College championship for the second successive time. Both sides played loosely at times and made frequent errors, but the Sophomores put up the steadier game of the two and also batted better.

Moore was in the box for the Sophomores and clearly outpitched his opponent, allowing but three scattered hits and giving three bases on balls. He struck out four men, as did Pratt, the Junior twirler. Pratt gave five bases on balls, however, and was touched up for seven hits. Hawley behind the bat played a star game and caught several hard fouls. Gladwin and Captain Kretschmar also put up a good game. Royse led the hitting with a triple and a double. For the Juniors, Jansen, Franklin, Halford and Brigham played well. The features of the game were a difficult stop of a grounder by Halford in the first inning, Gladwin's beautiful stop of a ground ball in the sixth and a double play by Flichtner and Jansen.

The Sophomores went first to bat but could not get a man past second. For the Juniors, Franklin struck out. Flichtner singled and stole second. Jansen hit to Clutia who threw wild over first, scoring Flichtner and landing Jansen on third. Halford hit to Royse, who fumbled scoring Jansen. Halford reached first safely and stole second and third, scoring on another error by Royse. Burdon flied out to Kretschmar, and Pratt drew a base on balls, but was put out in attempting to steal second. In the second inning the Sophomores made their first score. Moore drew a base on balls, stole second and scored on a pass ball. Clutia struck out. Kretschmar was retired by Halford's assist. Royse hit for two bases and Pattee was out by Halford's assist. The Juniors could not score in their half. Neither side scored in the third. The Sophomores went out in order in the fourth but the Juniors added another run to their score on errors by Clutia and Couch.

In the fifth the Sophomores secured four runs and the lead. Kretschmar received a free pass to first, reached third on a pass ball and Pratt's error, and stole home. Royse struck out, Pattee reached first on Brigham's error and Bates walked. Gladwin hit to Davis, and then the ball was thrown about the diamond, during the course of which Bates and Pattee scored and Gladwin reached second. A stolen base and an error were the means of his scoring. Hawley reached first on Davis' error, Couch fled to Flichtner and Hawley started for second, but he was put out by Jansen. The Juniors went out in order. Three hits, a base on balls, and an error netted the Sophomores two more runs in the sixth. Again the Juniors went out in order. In the seventh three Sophomores crossed the plate, thus securing a lead, impossible to be overcome. A collision between Kretschmar and Pattee in trying to field the ball hit by Brigham and a player's option added one more run to the Junior's score. The score was as follows:

PHILOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION.

The thirty first annual session of the American Philological association will begin in New York Monday, July 5. Clement L. Smith of Harvard university will deliver an address on Wednesday evening in the Central Hall of the Museum of the New Library in University Heights where the sessions of the association will be held. Amherst will be represented at this meeting by Prof. W. L. Cowles.

CAMPAIGN RESOLUTIONS.

At a recent meeting of representatives from the eleven fraternities in College the following resolutions governing the campaign for the season of 1899 were drawn up, and have since been ratified by the fraternities represented:

The undersigned, representatives of the eleven fraternities in Amherst College, recognizing that there have been noticeable defects in our campaigning system in the past, do hereby agree to carry on the campaign of 1899 in an open, frank and gentlemanly manner, in an earnest effort to maintain a higher standard of inter-fraternity relations. In the furtherance of our desires be it,

Resolved, That we make no appointments with prospective members of Amherst College before they leave trains upon their arrival in Amherst.

Resolved, That we countenance no ungentlemanly conduct in meeting new men on the station platforms and elsewhere; and that we put no hindrance in the way of all men having a chance to make appointments with all fraternities.

Resolved, That no more than three representatives of any fraternity shall be present at any train arrival for the purpose of making appointments with incoming freshmen.

Resolved, That we observe the strictest punctuality in regard to appointments made by other fraternities with new men.

Resolved, That by no statement, allusion or gesture we cast any slur upon the members, the spirit or the position of any other fraternity.

Resolved, That we make no statements to new men regarding the number usually pledged by any other fraternity or in any way give the impression that the delegation of any other fraternity is full.

Resolved, That any fraternity has the right to ask a new man to promise that he will pledge nowhere else without first personally informing the fraternity holding the promise of his intention to pledge elsewhere; and that this promise constitutes a pledge-off. And further, that we agree not to violate the pledge-offs of any other fraternity, nor in any way to weaken the conditions above mentioned.

Resolved, That we furnish no transportation, except by electric car, for new men between appointments or to and from stations, except when the weather makes it necessary

Resolved, That a committee, consisting of one man from each fraternity, be appointed to hear and pass upon any reported infraction of the foregoing rules. That when a case is in hearing, the fraternity charged with the infraction and the fraternity preferring the charge shall each be given a full and impartial hearing. That when the committee passes upon the evidence the representatives of the fraternity charged and the accusing fraternity be excluded from the session. That the committee, having decided upon the guilt of any fraternity by a two-thirds vote, have the power to censure publicly the offending fraternity.

Resolved, That each of the fraternities represented by the undersigned, agrees to abide by these resolutions.

ALUMNI NOTES.

'30.—Alvan W. Chapman, the able and well-known botanist, and author of "Flora of the Southern United States" died on April 6 at Appalachicola, Fla., at the advanced age of nearly ninety years. With the exception of the Rev. Elias Riggs of the class of Twenty-nine, Mr. Chapman was the earliest living graduate of Amherst. He was one of the greatest of American botanists and was probably the first of Amherst's graduates to attain distinction along scientific lines. Mr. Chapman was of modest and retiring habits and will long be remembered for his useful life.

'46.—On June 7, the alumni of the Andover Theological seminary held a meeting at Andover, about 100 graduates of the institution being present. The principal business was the reading of the necrology by the secretary of the association. Thirty-five alumni and two trustees of the seminary died during the past year. The meeting was presided over by the Rev. George E. Fisher of Amherst, the senior member of the House of Representatives.

'60.—Rev. Henry Bullard, D. D., delivered an address lately before the Park College Historical club on "William Tyndale." May 4, he preached the baccalaureate sermon at Highland university, Kansas.

'64.—At a meeting of the Connecticut Valley Congregational club at Easthampton, June 6, Dr. C. M. Lamson of Hartford delivered an address on "The Apostles' Creed."

Once more the memory of the late Gen. Francis Amasa Walker has been honored by an organization of appreciative associates. This time the Military Order of the Loyal Legion has made permanent record of its love and respect for Technology's late president by placing one of its memorial tablets on the right of the entrance of the new general library in the Rogers building at the institute. The tablet, which is of bronze, is about three feet by four feet in size, and weighs 150 pounds. It is of a simple but beautiful design, with a border of laurel branches and a centre piece consisting of an American eagle in bas-relief resting upon the globe, surmounted by a wreath of laurel. The tablet bears the following inscription:

To the Memory of Francis Amasa Walker, 1840-1897., Lieutenant-Colonel, Assistant Adjutant General, Brevet Brigadier-General, U. S. V., A Faithful Officer in the War Which Preserved the Union and Destroyed Slavery. His Companions in Arms of the Commandery, of the State of Massachusetts, of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States, have here placed this tablet. Lex regit arma tuentur.

NINETY.

A son, Edward Stuart Gates, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright Gates, 1601 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, on April 24.

Edwin Duffey sailed last week for Europe, where he will spend the summer in travel.

'94.—The Phillipian gives the credit for the baseball victory of Andover over Exeter last Saturday to A. E. Stearns. The Andover paper states that "With but two members back from last years team and with green, unexperienced material offered, Mr. Stearns developed a winning team, a team that could beat both Lawrenceville and Exeter. Our team won the games but it was Mr. Stearns that made it."

NINETY-SIX.

Miss Marion Stanley Blake and William Edwards Milne were married June 15, at Englewood, N. J.

Prof. Henry Nelson Bullard has an article in the Park College Literary Bulletin and Literary Review for May on "Bulwer Lytton, the Novelist" and one in the June number on "Henry Wadsworth Longfellow." Professor Bullard attended the meeting of the American Library association in Atlanta and read a paper there at the Wednesday evening session.

Invitations for the marriage of Miss Jessie C. Guilford of Sunderland to Albert I. Montague, June 29, have been issued.

NINETY-EIGHT.

The Missionary Herald for June contains extracts from letters of E. H. Blatchford, who has been traveling in India. They give very interesting accounts of his visits among the missionary workers and especially of his visit with Edward Fairbank, '89.

Arthur L. Otterson and Miss Adelaide F. Badger were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Badger, 2 West Eighty-eight street, New York, Wednesday, June 14.

ADMISSION.

The four-year curriculum of the Classical Course leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for the Freshman class must be at least sixteen years of age, and correspondingly older for advanced standing. Prescribed subjects for examination include Greek, Latin, Mathematics, Ancient History, and English.

The four-year curriculum of the Scientific Course leads to the Degree of Bachelor of Science. Prescribed subjects for examination are as above, omitting Greek and adding Modern Languages, History of England and of the United States, Modern Geography, and Chemistry or Physics.

Preliminary examinations are allowed for admission to either of the above courses.

Graduates of certain preparatory schools are admitted on certificate, without examination. The certificates and pass-cards of the Regents of the University of the State of New York are also accepted in place of examinations.

Porter Admission Prize of $50 for best examination for admission to the Freshman class.

For admission to advanced standing, full equivalents are accepted.

Regular entrance examinations at Amherst, June 22d and 23rd, 1899, and simultaneously at preparatory schools by request.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Graded Diplomas, B. A. and B. S., are awarded at the conclusion of the foregoing courses. Non-competitors for these degrees may pursue special courses.

The academic year is 37 weeks in duration, divided into three terms. The summer vacation of 12 weeks begins with the last week in June. Commencement, June 28, 1899.

Tuition fee, $110 yearly. Privileges of the Pratt Gymnasium free to all students.

The annual award of fellowships and prizes exceeds $3,000.

The beneficiary funds of the College exceed $240,000. Students may receive assistance from the income of these funds.

The collections for instruction in Art and the Natural Sciences are unsurpassed.

Fully equipped laboratories for instruction in Physics, Chemistry and Biology.

The College Library contains about 70,000 volumes, and is freely accessible to all students, without fees.

The Pratt Athletic Field, five minutes' walk from the College campus, is the finest college field in the country. Open to all students.

For further information, catalogues and examination papers, address, The Registrar of Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.
